

To Mail Bonus SS Payments

New Law Includes Extra 7 PC Check

By BOB HORTON
WASHINGTON (AP)—There's an extra check in your future if you are one of the 20 million persons now receiving Social Security benefits.
That check, due to be mailed in late September, will be a retroactive payment reflecting the seven per cent increase provided under the Social Security health care bill signed Friday by President Johnson.
The bill is retroactive to January. To figure what your check may be, let's assume you received $100 monthly January through August for an $800 total. The separate September check will be seven per cent of $800, or $56.
The first regular checks reflecting the increase will be mailed in early October covering September.

Social Security Commissioner Robert M. Ball mentioned the upcoming check Sunday in outlining what some people should do to receive new benefits.

Payment Automatic

Some needn't do anything. If you are a Social Security or railroad retirement beneficiary 65 or older, you automatically will be certified for the new basic hospital insurance which goes into effect July 1, 1966.

And if you are a beneficiary interested in the voluntary supplementary plan covering physicians' fees and other benefits, you will receive automatically by mail an enrollment card in September or October. The voluntary program also is effective July 1.

Some people, however, should check now at their nearest Social Security office, Ball said.

These groups include:

Persons 65 or over who are insured under Social Security but never have applied for benefits. Apply now — even if employed full time — for hospital insurance. This will assure you may be entitled to beginning in 1966 under more liberal retirement provisions.

Persons 72 or over not now receiving benefits because they or their husbands hadn't worked long enough to qualify under previous provisions. You now may qualify for $35 monthly benefits with as little as three-fourths of coverage under Social Security.

May File Now

Widows 60 or 61 years old. You can file application now to start getting cash benefits at 60, at a reduced amount, instead of 62. This provision becomes effective in September.

Students 18 to 22 whose Social Security benefits have stopped. Apply for benefits retroactive to January if you've been dropped from the Social Security rolls. If you are nearing 18 and plan to stay in or return to school, fill out an information form which will start benefits when you reach 18.

Severely disabled workers. You now may collect disability insurance if the disability has lasted or may last 12 months. Previous provisions stipulated that the disability had to last a long and indefinite time.

Widows past 60 who have re-

Will Offer Soviets Joint Western Plan For Weapons Check

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH

GENEVA (AP) — A joint Western proposal for a treaty to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons is to be offered to the Soviet Union during the next two weeks, reliable sources reported today.

Western negotiators at the 17-nation disarmament conference doubt the Russians will show any constructive interest, but they want to present the treaty draft before the conference adjourns next month for the U.N. General Assembly.

The Western allies figure the Russians then would be left to explain their negative attitude to the General Assembly, which has been pressuring the nuclear powers for progress toward disarmament.

The Western draft would permit the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to proceed with the creation of a NATO nuclear force. But conference sources said it would require the United States and Britain to keep their nuclear weapons under the control of their own nationals and retain a total veto on their use.

Others Participate

Non-nuclear nations participating in the NATO force would be given some say in advance planning and would be consulted before nuclear weapons assigned to the force were used. The draft would make clear that such planning and consultation would not be a treaty violation.

Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin already has brushed aside this limitation on the Atlantic force, terming it meaningless. He has told the conference repeatedly that the Soviet Union will sign a treaty to restrict the spread of nuclear weapons only if it explicitly outlaw the proposed Atlantic force or any other arrangement giving West Germany "direct or indirect" control over nuclear weapons.

Reds a Block

"Thus far," one Western delegate said, "the Russians insist that the West must formally bury any kind of joint nuclear force before it is even born. This we obviously can't do. But we keep telling them that any treaty they sign will limit the eventual shape of the force."

The treaty draft would bar the five nuclear powers — the United States, Russia, Britain, France and Red China — from supplying nuclear weapons or know-how to any other nation or group of nations.

The world's non-nuclear powers would agree not to manufacture or acquire nuclear weapons.

The proposal arose from a British plan submitted to the

Litter Cans Found With Garbage In

Widespread abuse of the city's effort to discourage littering of streets was reported today and the public is asked to cooperate in ending it.

Max J. Oppenheimer, assistant public works superintendent, noted this morning that men of his department have picked up many of the containers filled with garbage and other refuse not intended for them.

The litter receptacles have been placed on busier city streets with cooperation of the Kingston Lions Club and they are not placed for collection of garbage and heavier refuse.

Those taken from streets by public works crews will not be returned until it can be determined that they are put to proper use, Oppenheimer said.

Rain Is Slight In Local Area; 2.3 Inches Due

Approximately .25 inches of rain fell on the Kingston area between early this morning and noontime as storm fronts moved in all over the drought-stricken Northeast, leaving areas of the Middle Atlantic states well soaked.

The U. S. Weather Bureau predicted 2 or 3 inches of rain would accumulate later today in the parched Hudson River Valley.

A total of 2.3 inches of rain accumulated in Kingston during the month of July, the City Engineer's office reported today. This compares with the 0.87 inch total for July, 1964.

Rainfall in the Cooper Lake watershed in the 24 hours up to 8 a. m. today was reported at .71 of an inch.

It was still raining there late this morning, however, and the total for the storm will not be known until Tuesday.

July contributed 2.58 inches to the watershed compared to an average for this month of some four inches.

Water in Cooper Lake was reported 4.35 feet below spillway level. It was 5.6 feet down on Aug. 2, 1964 and continued going down at a faster rate than this year until it reached the danger point of 18.4 feet in November. Late fall and winter rains, however, replenished storage and it was at capacity by early spring.

By June it was going down again this year, but the city is using far less water this year than last, Edmund T. O'Leary, water department superintendent, reported recently, and July rains, although far below average, helped some.

Sprinkling of lawns and gardens in the city is now restricted to the hours of 7 to 9 p. m.

Reports Elsewhere

An Associated Press report today stated that Bush Dam in northern Pennsylvania received 2.85 inches of rain in 40 minutes Sunday night. The 12-hour rainfall total at Salisbury, Md., was raised to about 4 1/2 inches by Sunday night's storm.

Thunderstorms also rolled over Florida and the southern Rocky Mountain area. Farmington, N. M., reported a half inch of rain.

Unseasonably cool temperatures this morning chilled the Great Lakes region. The mercury dipped to the 40s in the upper region and readings in the 50s were common elsewhere.

To Present Protest on Police Car

Petitioners Seek Rosendale Action

A petition with more than 400 names asking discontinuance of the town police patrol car will be presented to Rosendale Town Board Wednesday 8 p. m. at the town clerk's office, Main Street.

A public hearing on a proposed junkyard ordinance will be held at 7 p. m. prior to the meeting.

Want No Police Force

Peter Costa of Bloomington, one of the petitioners in a statement this week said that he had secured 110 of the signatures against the purchase of the police car. Among them, he said, 95 per cent were against having a police force in the township.

Costa said there have also been reports that the petition would be declared illegal. Answering this Costa said:

"I would like to remind the board that this country was founded and might I add fought for the right to petition and vote, and our rights are preserved in the Constitution of the United States."

"My recommendations to the board and backed by the petitioners are as follows:

"1. The constable in charge, Harold Bowers, should resign."

"2. The entire constabulary should be disbanded."

"3. The police car should be auctioned to the highest bidder."

"4. The board should deputize through the Sheriff's Office, four deputies from each fire company in the township, who are familiar with the community. They would be an asset to the town and save us taxpayers the burden of unnecessary taxation through duplication of police power by being paid when called to do a service."

Asks for Motion

Costa, concluded, "I hope at least one member of the board will have the courage to stand and make a motion that they not only consider the above, but to act immediately on the above recommendations."

"We hope that the members of the board who are coming up for reelection in November are again reminded that they are elected by the people to do the will of the people," he said.

The Town of Rosendale tax rate is $83.258 per $1,000 of assessed valuation. This is an increase of $12.457 over last year.

The petition to be presented is actually a protest against Local Law No. 1 which authorized purchase or lease of a car for

Chinese Rooftops Alive With Antiaircraft Guns

HONG KONG (AP)—Chinese arriving from Canton say the southern city's rooftops are bristling with antiaircraft guns and that new antiaircraft batteries have been set up at key points.

Trenches are being dug in the city and basements and interior corridors of major buildings are being outfitted air-raid shelters, the travelers reported.

The stories are more detailed than previous reports and are being given more credence by Western government experts in Hong Kong.

Here, as earlier, the reports are second, third, or fourth hand.

Equally hard to evaluate are persistent reports that Canton officials are moving key government offices out of the city and forcing factories and workers to move as far as 600 miles inland.

Although some travelers insist an evacuation is well underway, Western specialists here say their best information indicates a great deal of planning but little actual movement so far.

There are fairly well-substantiated reports that large numbers of young men, in their late teens and early 20s, have been called up for military duty on Hainan, the major Red Chinese island opposite North Viet Nam in the Gulf of Tonkin.

A major military buildup is under way on Hainan. Chinese travelers say wives and children of cadres there are being returned to Canton for movement inland.

Johnson Strongly Blasts Republican; Malicious, He Says

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson has caused a political stir by accusing a top congressional Republican of violating his confidence and releasing "untrue and perhaps malicious" information about deliberations on the Viet Nam war.

Johnson did not name the man he had in mind but a number of newspapers implied the President's target was House GOP leader Gerald R. Ford Jr. of Michigan.

Asked to comment, Ford said, in effect, that Johnson was talking through his hat if he had him in mind.

Strongest Language

Johnson, using language that was perhaps stronger than any he has publicly aimed at a Republican since entering the White House, spoke out at a session with newsmen Sunday at the LBJ ranch.

The President was asked about published reports that he was dissuaded from calling reservists to duty at this time because of a memo from Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana.

On Wednesday, the President ordered 50,000 more U.S. troops to Viet Nam. The action followed a week of consultations during which there was speculation that the troop increase would be larger and reservists might be ordered to active duty.

Replying to a newsmen's question regarding the Mansfield report, Johnson said: "That was the result of a man who broke my confidence, and not only broke it but distorted it. I would break it untrue and perhaps malicious."

Johnson said the man he was talking about was "one of the prominent members of another party" who had participated in one of the White House conferences that preceded the President's Viet Nam decisions.

Those on Hand

There was no list of Republicans attending the meetings, but Ford, Senate GOP leader Everett M. Dirksen and Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa were known to have been on hand.

Dirksen couldn't be reached for comment.

Hickenlooper said he had no idea what the President was talking about.

Johnson said the unnamed Republican had held a background session with newsmen, meaning he gave them information but declined to be identified as the source.

"Most of the people you deal with respect the confidence, but once in a while an inexperienced man, or a new one, or a bitter partisan has to play a little politics," Johnson said.

Ford was chosen at the start of the current congressional session.

One F105 Shot Down, Pilot Lost

Viet Cong Base Target at Doxa

By EDWIN Q. WHITE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. B52 bombers made their seventh reported strike in South Viet Nam today, dropping their bombs in the northernmost raid so far announced for the jet bombers.

Across the border, a U.S. Air Force F105 Thunderchief was shot down in an attack on the Thanh Hoa Railroad Bridge, 80 miles south of Hanoi. The pilot parachuted but efforts to rescue him were unsuccessful and he was officially listed as missing.

A U.S. spokesman said 30 of the Strategic Air Command's eight-jet bombers dropped 500 tons of bombs during a 45-minute raid on "Viet Cong installations in Quang Tin Province, approximately 350 miles north northwest of Saigon."

The raid was carried out at the request of the South Vietnamese government "against a suspected Viet Cong base near the Doxa," the spokesman said.

Shroud of Mist

The Doxa is a mountainous, mist-shrouded area north of Kontum that Viet Cong has controlled for years.

The B52s flew today from their base on Guam. Last week they made a raid southeast of Saigon from Okinawa, after being moved there because of a typhoon threat to Guam.

On the ground, a big U.S. sweep southeast of Saigon ended today with meager results. The Viet Cong battalion supposed to be in the area was never found.

Three Viet Cong guerrillas were reported killed and three captured in the operation which sent nearly 2,000 American paratroopers and 1st Division artillerymen into the field last Thursday. The ground operation was preceded by the B52 bomber strike from Okinawa.

5 Americans Wounded

Five Americans were wounded when one of their own artillery rounds fell short.

Helicopters brought two battalions from the 173rd Airborne Brigade back to the Bien Hoa base before noon. A 1st Division battalion returned by helicopter and road convoy.

Communist guerrillas continued a flurry of attacks against outposts south of Saigon in Long An Province. In all, 26 Viet Cong actions, mostly mortar harassment, were reported in the past 48 hours.

A platoon of government troops suffered "extensive" casualties in a sharp clash at one of the outposts.

May Be Test

A spokesman said no conclusions were being drawn from the increase in Viet Cong activity near the capital. "Perhaps

Hudson Rug Co. To Open Store In Uptown Area

Hudson Rug Company, the oldest retail carpet firm in the mid-Hudson valley, will open a store in Kingston at 112-118 North Front Street. The opening of the new Kingston carpet store, scheduled for Monday, Aug. 9, was announced by Graeme Fairbanks, general manager of Hudson Rug Company.

The Kingston carpet establishment will be Hudson Rug's third store. At present, it has one in Newburgh at 315 Broadway, and another in Poughkeepsie at Poughkeepsie Plaza. The Newburgh store was founded in 1929. The Poughkeepsie store began operations in 1963.

"In coming to Kingston," Fairbanks said, "Hudson Rug is growing to meet the needs of a growing community."

Opening day ceremonies at the new Hudson Rug establishment at 112-118 North Front will be attended by Mayor John Schwenk of Kingston, President Harry Kaprelian of the Kingston area Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Fairbanks, and carpet industry figures.

Hudson Rug Company is affiliated with Sandler and Worth, a leading carpet chain based in New Jersey. Headquarters store of the Sandler and Worth chain is in Springfield, New Jersey, with other stores located in Paramus, Wayne, Eatontown, and North Brunswick.

Reactions Are Reported To New 2 PC Sales Tax

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—"Don't talk to me about it," said an Albany bartender. "You've just ruined my Sunday."

"It" is New York's new statewide, 2-per-cent sales tax, which went into effect Sunday.

Some New York State residents greeted the new levy with anger, but many others took it in stride as a renewal of an old American experience.

More vocal reactions were assured for today, with the resumption of weekday business and merchandising activity.

In the general Sunday lull, however, much of the comment in New York City—where the sales tax is now 5 per cent—centered on the tax on a 15-cent glass of beer—1 cent.

In areas with no local sales tax, items under 26 cents are not taxed.

Collection of the new tax elicited these other comments: "Man-on-the-street, Rochester—"I'm glad I'm moving to Arizona. They don't have taxes like that out there."

Novelty-store operator, Buffalo—"We've had a few complaints. But they're paying it. What else can they do?"

A New York City tavern-own-er, commenting on the tax on a glass of beer, said:

"There's two ways you can go. Use a smaller glass or raise the price. The glass can't get much smaller, so they'll probably have to hike the price."

The tax applies to a wide range of items, with the principal exceptions being food and drugs, which are exempt.

The tax was passed by the 1965 Legislature at Gov. Rockefeller's behest. Lengthy and heated debate preceded its adoption.

The governor said he needed the tax to produce an additional $330 million in revenue to help balance the state's budget of about $3.5 billion.

When fully operative, the tax is expected to yield about $600 million a year for the state. State officials estimate it will cost about $12 million a year to enforce the levy.

Baby Models Giving Artists More Challenge

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) —

The nude dark-haired model stretched languorously under the steady gaze of 29 art students.

Artists — men and women, amateurs and professionals — tried to sketch the exact skin tone, the shadowing, and particularly the pert form of the pink derriere.

The model—earning $2.25 an hour for posing in the sun-drenched studio—was absolutely without modesty.

Nearby, pretty Eva relaxed, nude from the waist up, and the artists were indifferent.

The model was Gabriel Kroiz, 3 months old. He was helping in a new concept in a life-drawing class. Eva was another baby model standing by in a diaper. Albert Sangiamo, a teacher at the Maryland Institute, said he was using babies as models because artists get too used to drawing "a good looking male or female model."

"That's the type of body they are usually drawing and that's the concept they get of the human figure," he said.

He said babies provide a completely different challenge because of skin texture and skeletal structure.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

Lately I have had a number of calls for Kingston Point Postal Cards. The ones I have are all one of a kind so I keep them in my collection, but there were many on the market and they should be around somewhere. The local Kingston views of early 1900 I have such as of the Court House, the churches, Senate House, old fire station when they had horses, the Union Depot when it was in fine condition, can all be seen at the Chamber of Commerce window and can be bought there. Kingston Point Park and Kingston trolley cars seem to be rare so far.

Robert Matthews has one of the finest assortments of postal cards and also Mr. Boyle of Kingston views and as I remember Hudson-Fulton celebration cards of 1909. Mr. Matthews has many trolley car views also. It seems that thousands of Hudson-Fulton cards were printed in some 10 colors, and there were 72 different ones, showing historical and carnival floats, Henry Hudson, the Half Moon, Robert Fulton, the Clermont and the official poster design. They were selling for $25 per thousand during the celebration in 1909, so there must be some of these still around somewhere.

The Hudson Fulton stamp of 1909 was then considered the largest stamp printed. It was oblong in shape some seven eighths of an inch by one and three quarters in size and cost two cents. You would be surprised what it cost today, or what a block of four, mint cost, although some 50 million of these were printed then. It was sold on opening day of the Hudson-Fulton celebration on Saturday, Sept. 25, 1909.

Kingston Point Park maybe revived according to various reports. In the lagoon near the bandstand in my time could be seen the Clermont replica of the Hudson - Fulton celebration, which could run by steam or sail. In the 1909 celebration it carried the original bell from the first Clermont. Mrs. Arthur Taylor Sutcliffe, formerly Alice Crary, a great granddaughter of Robert Fulton named the 1909 vessel with these words: "I name thee Clermont, and again auspiciously proclaim to the American people the sentiments of Robert Fulton as expressed in an essay to the Friends of Mankind. 'Industry will give abundance to a virtuous world and call mankind to unbounded feats of harmony and friendship. The liberty of the seas will be happiness of the earth.' Water from Clermont was used in a silver filigree bottle. The Clermont of course has completely disappeared in the lagoon, no one gave it a coat of paint or took care of it.

I am just wondering now that the 9W road in Port Ewen is getting such a face lift will the Rondout - Sleighsburch bridge get a coat of paint and scraping of the old rust. I see some of the concrete is going in pieces. I feel regardless of what bridges may come this bridge is a convenience to the Sleighsburch people and Connelly and of course Port Ewen. I see they blacktopped the entire road, and just where the people are supposed to walk to keep out of the way of the speeding cars is a mystery. Folks cannot climb the rock cut. People still do walk to and from the bridge.

No doubt many old timers remember the Skillypot which ran between the bottom of Hasbrouck Avenue and Sleighsburch. I think it was 2 cents, and then one could walk up the Sleighsburch hill. People walked a great deal in those days and Port Ewen folks thought nothing of walking down the hill to shop in Rondout, or from there take a trolley uptown, especially when they worked in Kingston.

Report Business Good In Sale of Worms

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — The three young Vinduska boys aren't much concerned about teen-age competition for summer jobs. They've gone into business for themselves.

The trio—Jarel, 14, Gary, 13, and John, 11, sons of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Vinduska—organized a worm sales business for the summer and are doing quite well, thank you.

The firm, with Jarel as general manager, is grossing better than $100 a month according to its well-kept ledgers. Gary is president and John is executive vice president. Overhead costs are close to zero.

The boys dig for worms along a nearby creek in the morning when it's cool.

The firm maintains a stand outside the Vinduska home. A feature of the business is a "worm honor system" as a sign on the stand proclaims. The honor system goes into effect when the young executives leave the stand open during absences from home. Customers help themselves and deposit the fee in a box. Jarel reports the system works satisfactorily, that nearly everyone pays for the worms taken, and that many leave a tip.

Chattanooga Celebrates

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — This proud city, famed for Lookout Mountain and the "Chattanooga Choo Choo," is celebrating its 150th birthday this year, just 26 years after it observed its 100th anniversary.

That may explain why so many men remember growing beards for the 100th anniversary. Thousands of Chattanooga men are doing the same this year for the "150th birthday," which will be climaxed in the fall by a round of festivities.

A STUDY OF CONTRASTS

Economic America is a fascinating study of contrasts. Savings are at an all-time high. Consumer credit, on the other hand, is also at an all-time high.

Just what does this mean? That there are millions of Americans who pay cash for everything. And that there are other millions who are in "hock" up to their necks.

The velocity of money has a tremendous influence on prosperity. A dollar spent for the goods and services required to maintain the high standard of living for the 194,000,000 people in America sets in motion the machinery which gives employment, pays taxes, and declares dividends.

The volume of money in America has an incalculable prosperity potential. Commercial bank deposits today total $300,000,000,000. Mutual Savings Banks have over $50,000,000,000. Savings and Loan Associations have savings capital of $104,000,000,000. Currency in circulation totals $40,000,000,000, and money represented by governmental debt due within a year is running around $95,000,000,000. Add this up and one has the huge sum of $589,000,000,000! Money—America is saturated with it.

Now, what I should like to point out is this: let millions of cautious people who should have a higher standard of living start spending some of their idle money. It would return to them twofold.

Right here in New York City, there are a score of people who attend my Town Hall lectures whose standard of living, considering their age and their wealth, is too low and who ought to spend $5,000-$25,000 in 1965.

Yes, in economic America, there are billions upon billions of dollars that need greater velocity. A "dead" dollar does not accomplish much.

Against this regrettable condition, a contrasting situation is rapidly developing. It centers about the volume of consumer credit.

Consumer credit represents borrowing to be paid out of future income and earnings. At the end of April, 1965, it stood at $77,500,000,000.

By the very nature of our society, America goes to extremes. Many people abhor debt. The $589 billion money potential is eloquent testimony to this fact.

On the other hand, millions of people without savings and in uncertain jobs are in debt up to the hilt.

If I were the head of a big store in any of the large cities in this country, I would hire some able person to give a series of lectures emphasizing the logic of the money hoarders to improve their standards of living.

And over against the doctrine, I would have the lecturer warn against too small savings and too much consumer credit.

With consumer credit standing at $77-and-a-half billions, one can see that if this represents 10,000,000 individuals, the average borrowing volume is $7,500.

Abundant money is present in America to achieve a higher standard of living, even in the face of a reduction in consumer credit.

These matters are difficult to handle. But if more people with plenty of idle dollars who deserve a better economic life would spend a little money, any prosperity lag caused by a drop in consumer credit would be well cared for.

Reporter Traces History Of Sex Escapades in Films

EDITOR'S NOTE — From the beginning, movies were blasted by moralists as being sinful and oversexed. Critics long have argued whether films pioneer the loosening of moral values or merely reflect shifts in social attitudes. In a five-part series on the sex revolution in movies, AP columnist Bob Thomas traces the changing patterns, as epitomized by the sex symbol of each decade. The first article concerns the roaring twenties and Clara Bow.

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — It started with a kiss.

Back in the Gay Nineties, May Irwin and John C. Rice were the hit of Broadway in "The Widow Jones." The biggest laughs came from a prolonged kiss between the two stars. The kiss seemed like an ideal subject for Thomas A. Edison's new invention, the moving picture, and it was photographed on 50 feet of film atop a Manhattan building.

"The Kiss" quickly became in 1896 the greatest success of the movies' brief history. But it was excoriated by moralists as a "lyric of the stockyards" and "emphasized vulgarity."

Faded in 1965.

Bond Strikes Again

The most popular screen idol is James Bond, whose pursuit of spies is almost secondary to his hobby of seduction.

The new hit of the summer season is "What's New Pussycat," in which Peter O'Toole, once the ascetic "Lawrence of Arabia," employs a parade of nubile females as bed-warmers.

In "The Sandpiper," Elizabeth Taylor as a Bohemian artist poses almost nude for a statue before the eyes of an Episcopal minister, portrayed by Richard Burton.

Still the voices of protest are heard in the land.

Cries From Churches

The Catholic Bishops' Committee for Motion Pictures, Radio and Television has warned against two trends: the efforts of "powerful factions" in Hollywood to revive an anything-goes policy on film making and the "growing tendency" among some producers to "challenge the Judeo-Christian vision of man."

Although concern over movie morals began with "The Kiss," organized protest did not appear until the 1920s. Before, the ultimate of sex was considered to be the exotic femme fatale of the school of Theda Bara — "Kiss me, you fool." Postwar movie-goers wanted something closer to life, and they found it in films about the jazz age. Cecil B. DeMille, before he discovered the Bible, paraded Gloria Swanson through a succession of glittering bedrooms and baths. Joan Crawford kicked up her heels in a furious Charleston for "Our Dancing Daughters," "Our Modern Maidens," etc.

But the unquestioned queen of the hip-flask era was Clara Bow.

Eternally Sexy
"I've always played sexy roles," she once said in a rare analytical moment. "My voice always has been low and what they call 'fetching.' I've always put my hands on my hips and rolled my eyes."

Her mascaraed eyes rolling, the fringe of her short skirt twirling, her auburn spit-curls flying, she frolicked through movie after movie about wild, wild youth. She was the It Girl. The originator of the term, Eleanor Glynn, explained: "You can't measure it; a girl either has it or she does not."

Clara's costar, Richard Arlen, recalls, "She was always great fun to work with, vivacious and delightful. She was just the same off screen as she was on."

An Old Cowhand

Miss Bow's career ended with the era, and she retired to Nevada as the wife of the late rancher-politician Rex Bell. Plagued by chronic insomnia, she now lives in seclusion in Los Angeles.

The portrayals of Clara Bow and other emancipated females of the flapper period aroused displeasure among some in an America still linked to the Puritan tradition. Aroused churchmen and politicians began demanding restraints. Cities and states established censor boards.

The machinery for self-censorship existed. Alarmed by public reaction to a series of sex-dope-murder scandals, the producers had banded together and hired scrappy little Will Hays from President Warren G. Harding's cabinet to police industry morals.

But the real need to clamp down on sex in movies didn't come until they learned to talk.

TRUTH ABOUT VIET NAM

Demands and pleas that the government "tell the truth about Viet Nam" strike a responsive chord among many Americans, whether they are voiced by persons who oppose the administration's actions or by those who support them.

Although most of us have a decided opinion about what should be done in matters of domestic concern, when it comes to foreign affairs we are usually more ready to abdicate our own judgment and look to the government experts for answers, even while not quite trusting them.

This was pointed out recently by Gunnar Myrdal, an astute Swedish observer of the American scene.

Writing in the New York Times Magazine, he gives us as the reason the fact that the ordinary citizen "tends to assume that the government has information of a secret nature, not available to the general public."

While it may be to the tactical advantage of government officials to maintain this belief, "experience suggests that outside purely military matters the belief is vastly exaggerated when it is not entirely false."

Ordinarily, maintains Myrdal, no government has more knowledge about a foreign country than is generally available in the press and published literature.

If so, this carries two significant implications — one general and the other particular — for all of us:

In general, it means there can be no excuse for shrugging off responsibility for what the nation does in the world area on the grounds that we cannot possibly know — or learn as much about the issues as the men who have to make the decisions.

In the particular issue of Viet Nam, it means that despite any fond hopes, the government possesses no secret knowledge but for the revelation of which we could arrive at a quick and easy solution to the war there.

"The truth about Viet Nam" is as evident to the ordinary citizen as it is to the man in the White House.

It is that the Communists want to swallow up South Viet Nam and we intend to stop them from doing it.

It is that we face a long and increasingly costly struggle, with no certain prospect of victory, or even some kind of peace that is neither victory nor defeat.

There are no hidden truths that will make these obvious truths go away.

TRAFFIC JOBS GO BEGGING

In the early days of the automobile, the immediate goal of engineers was to build as many miles of highways as possible.

Today, the very success of this stupendous redesign of the country, which has been both a cause and an effect of zooming auto production and use, has resulted in new problems — particularly traffic congestion and accidents and a shortage of highway transportation engineers to plan, manage and operate America's 3.5 million miles of roads.

The United States has only 6,600 specialists in transportation planning, design, traffic operations and traffic research, says a report of the Automotive Safety Foundation. We could use 1,400 more right now; by 1980 we will need 2,200.

There are two principal reasons for the shortage. One is that highway transportation lacks the glamor appeal of some of the other new branches of engineering, such as space and electronics. The other is the lack of educational financial assistance.

According to the foundation, $350,000 a year in additional support would bring the training program up to a desirable level.

Compared with the 41-plus billions we are spending for the Interstate Freeway System, this is indeed small potatoes. Compared with the human and financial cost of 48-plus thousands of traffic deaths every year, it shrinks to nothingness.

A Warsaw newspaper says owning an American car is a capitalistic tendency leading down the road to ruin, and that a horse and buggy spell happiness. Sounds like the rationale of an envious Pole.

JUDGMENT DAY FOR HISTORIANS?

Miss Helen Clay Frick, daughter of Henry Clay Frick, the nineteenth-century steel and coke tycoon, is suing a Pennsylvania historian, Dr. Sylvester K. Stevens, for having libeled her dead father by calling him a "stern, brusque, autocratic" man when he broke the power of the steel workers union in the early Eighteen Nineties. The case is being tried in a Carlisle, Pennsylvania, court.

If Miss Frick succeeds in her contention that one can profane the dead, practically every last living member of the American guild of historians had better take to the hills. What a carnage there will be! For it is a fact that almost every energetic individual who made a nickel in the nineteenth century has been libeled. There is, for instance, Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt, who built up the New York Central Railroad. If you look Cornelius up in practically any book on the so-called Gilded Age, you'll find the historians repeating each other endlessly on the subject of the old Commodore's alleged stock waterings, his communing with the ghost of Jim Fisk for advice on market manipulation, and his temper tantrums with his children. You'll even find him quoted as having said "The public be damned!", even though the statement, if it was ever made at all, was first attributed to his son, William H. Vanderbilt.

The Vanderbilt fortune, after years of diffusion among a huge tribe of descendants, is no longer what it used to be. But if Miss Helen Clay Frick manages to establish a precedent in the action against the Pennsylvania historian, all the Vanderbilts can become rich again at the expense of our historians. Newport, Rhode Island, get ready! The chances are good that all those old sea front mansions will be opened again, paid for by the fines levied on the historians.

My old friend Gustavus Myers, who set the mode for writing about the tycoons in his "History of the Great American Fortunes," is dead, and it is doubtful that he left an estate that is worth suing. But there is hardly a living Ph.D. in the field of U. S. history who hasn't appropriated from Gus Myers. Dr. Sylvester Stevens, in his reply to Miss Helen Clay Frick, has asked plaintively, "How can a historian demonstrate the 'truth' of whatever interpretations he may make of the available evidence in a manner that would be called for in a court of law?"

Well, it would be horribly embarrassing for a number of our historians who might be compelled to parade in court the fact that they had used old Gus Myers as a secondary source. Gus wasn't even a Ph.D.

Old John D. Rockefeller was raked over the coals by Henry Demarest Lloyd and Ida Tarbell, both of whom are dead. But the canards about old John D.'s way with a rival oil baron go on endlessly, despite the efforts that have been made by historians like Allan Nevins and Ralph Hidy to correct them, or to set them in perspective.

If Helen Clay Frick wins her suit, the five living Rockefeller brothers might double their fortunes by taking on the historians. It could be the new Mother Lode.

Old Collis P. Huntington, the peddler who extracted a subsidy from the federal government and threw the first transcontinental railroad across the Sierra Nevada of California, lives in the books as the malign creator of an "octopus." But to his granddaughter-in-law, the sculptress Anna Hyatt Huntington, old Collis was a great builder and benefactor of humanity. Her statue of him is in the heroic mold. Mrs. Huntington, who is now in her nineties, has a grievance against the city of New York for having left her name off the pedestal in Central Park that supports her great action statue of Jose Marti, the "George Washington of Cuba."

If she is feeling ornery about this, as well she might, she could vent her spleen by bringing suit against all those historians who may have libeled the shade of Collis P. Huntington.

You get the idea. If you have ever written a book called "The Robber Barons" or "The Age of the Moguls" or "John D.: A Portrait in Oil," you had better buy a one-way ticket to Brazil. Otherwise the descendants of Rockefeller, Morgan, Vanderbilt, Carnegie, Schwab, Durant, Ford, and Sunny Jim Stillman may be living off you. Some of them may even need the money.

Too Little Yet Known

About Growth Hormones

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M. D.

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Although nothing could be more deadly than for all individuals to be exactly alike, modern youths persist in bemoaning their failure to be as tall as the others in their group. A 12-year-old boy writes that some of his friends are taking pills to make them grow. Since he is slightly shorter than some of his friends he wants to know whether he should take them too.

This is a highly controversial subject and no pat answer can be given. It is true that in one group of children whose growth had definitely been stunted by severe asthmatic attacks, stanozolol, a male hormone, brought their growth back within the normal expectancy based on age and height.

In another group, who were shown to have a deficiency of the pituitary gland (pituitary dwarfs) or who were late maturing, methandrostenolone, also a male hormone, caused an increase in height. Both drugs have the disadvantage that they are likely to hasten the onset of puberty.

It is often difficult to differentiate between a hereditary tendency to be short and lowered activity of the pituitary. It is likewise hard to tell whether the increase in growth after taking the hormones would have occurred without them. In all children at some time in puberty there is a period of rapid growth but no one can predict when it will start.

Some children with a short stature are backward in school and because of their self-consciousness become socially withdrawn. When given growth hormones some of them show marked improvement in the classroom and in social behavior. In others, however, the problems of maladjustment increase, their psychological problems remain as acute as ever. For this reason it is unwise to rush into a course of hormonal treatment without a thorough psychological as well as physical checkup.

Another deterrent to this type of treatment is that it is still very expensive. Furthermore, in some children over-stimulation of growth results in a short spurt which stops short of the desired height. These persons thus fail to attain the height that they should have reached had they not taken the hormone.

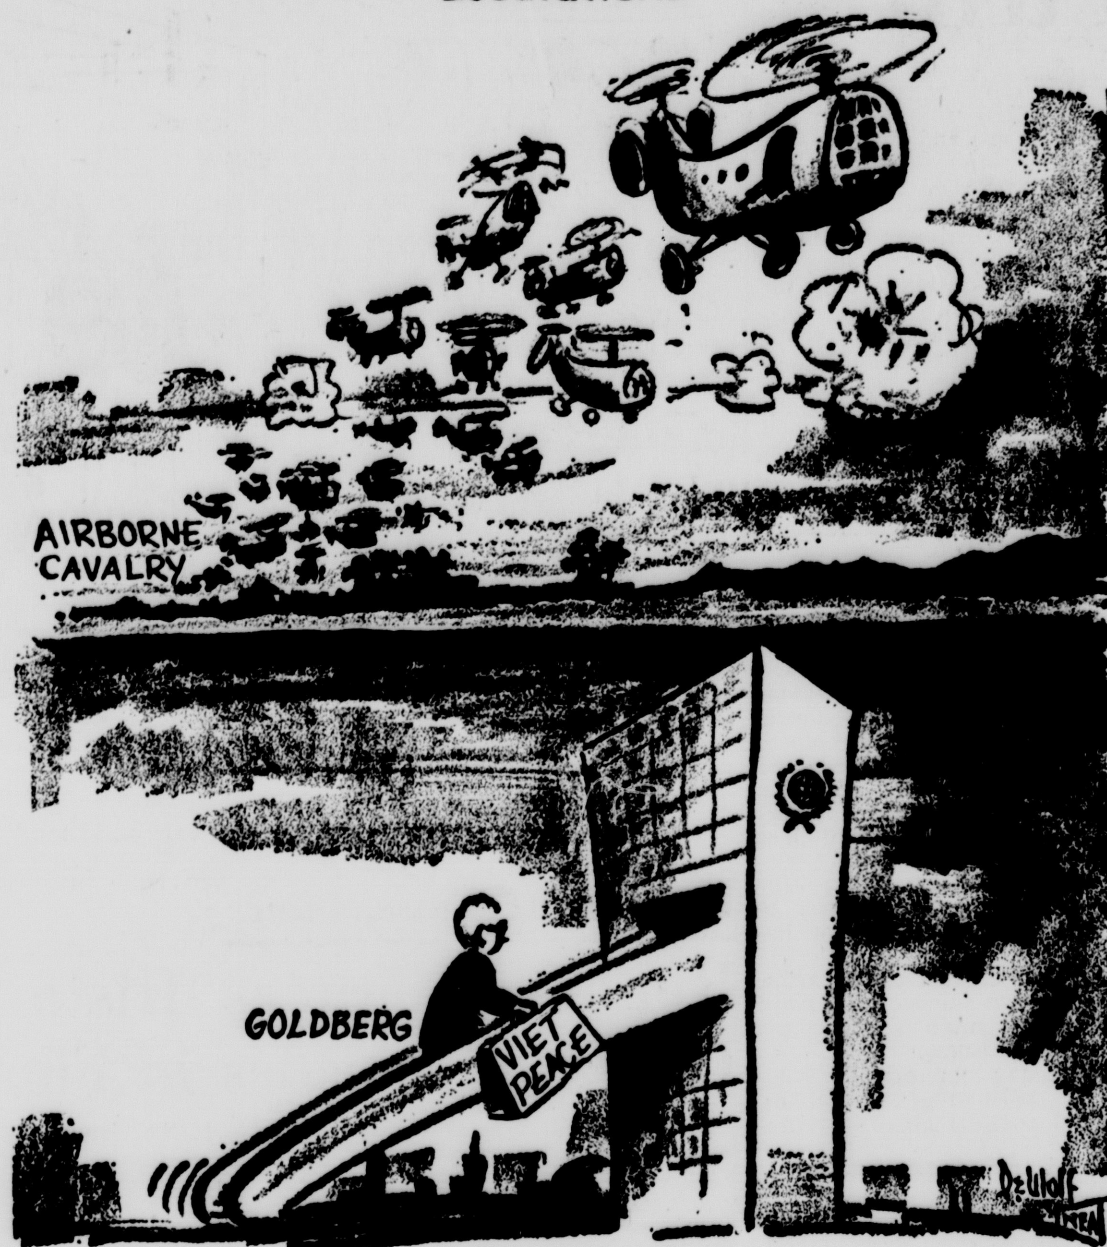

Until much more is known about the factors that control growth the best course is to teach your short child to be complacent. Many famous men have been shorter than average. As B. B. Goldbloom so aptly expressed it: "What goes into child's mouth is less important than what comes out of it."

Washington News

By RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
WASHINGTON — (NEA) —

There's an old frontier story about a famous Indian medicine man. When a white scout with an incurable sore on his hip asked the Indian if he could heal him, the redskin doctor said yes. Whereupon he tied the white man to a tree, ordered a poker heated red hot in a campfire and thrust into the man's side. When the victim regained consciousness he weakly but angrily asked what the Indian thought he was doing.

"It's simple," said the medicine man. "I didn't know how to cure that sore. But I do know how to cure a burn. Now your sore is gone and you have a burn. I can handle that."

The question is whether the United States with a red hot poker (a massive influx of modern arms) can convert an old-fashioned guerrilla war (which we don't know how to fight) into a conventional conflict (at which we are adept).

HISTORY GIVES A MIXED ANSWER. The Japanese failed in China, the French in Indochina and Algeria. The United States succeeded in Greece and the British in Malaya. The Philippine government put down the Hukos. Long years ago, after a long struggle, the U. S. Army defeated the American Indians.

There are critical points to note about each successful anti-guerrilla campaign.

Modern weapons were very useful. They were not the deciding factor.

None of the antiguerrilla wars, in fact, were won by directly defeating the guerrilla forces.

No war against guerrillas was won until five major objectives were achieved:

1. The guerrillas were cut off from their major foreign and domestic supplies of weapons, ammunition and food. The plains Indians were finally defeated—not in battle—but when the whites killed off the buffalo. The Greek guerrillas were defeated when the borders were sealed. The Malayan guerrillas were controlled when the non-Communist farmers and their food supplies were sealed off from the underground fighters.

2. SOME SUCCESSFUL PROGRAM was initiated to give the enemy guerrilla a chance to surrender and live with his family and children in a better world than he was living in as a guerrilla. In the Philippines, the Hukos were offered farming land. The Indians were given reservations, however meager.

3. Some way was found to separate the guerrillas from the loyal or neutral country and city folk. The guerrillas were rooted out of the safe areas, not left to build underground as they did in Algeria, Indochina and China.

4. Some form of orderly government and police protection was offered in the hamlets, villages and cities to those who remained on the government anti-guerrilla side.

5. The ordinary people on the government side (and the neutrals) saw an opportunity for gradually bettering their lot.

The lesson of history would seem to indicate that modern weapons will not win the Vietnamese war unless these five criteria are followed with strong determination.

A DAY IN THE LIFE OF A KING
Part One.

The sun comes up strong and cool on Avenida del Valle and the tall firs and mimosa cut shadows of blueberry pie. A Madrid policeman looks at the quiet villa behind the garden wall and yawns. Soon he will be relieved and another policeman will take over the task of guarding a distinguished exile. The work is dull.

Spain is the refuge of those who have died politically and managed to take it with them. General Peron of the Argentine lives in splendor; Ramfis Trujillo enjoys swift cars and faster jets; Prince Nicholas of Russia lives quietly; the Grand Duke Vladimir of Russia has a forgotten title; Fulgencio Batista sneaks in via Switzerland to have lunch with his wife; Queen Geraldine of Albania lives in another time, another geography.

At 8 a. m. a new policeman is one duty. Upstairs in the Castilian House a small alarm clock tinkles in a drape-darkened bedroom. The hand of His Majesty Simeon II, King of the Bulgarians, reaches out of the bed, fumbles along the shelf, and shuts the clock off. The head comes off the pillow and he glances at the queen. She sleeps.

The king is content because she requires extra rest. She will have her third baby in three years in October.

He awakens quickly. The long slender feet feel blindly for slippers. The king bounds out of bed, gets a robe, and leaves the room. The door shuts softly and the queen sits up. She has been awake. She gets out of bed slowly, and pulls the drapes back. She pulls the long straight black hair behind her neck. A bell is rung and a maid tells the cook to prepare breakfast for two.

The queen returns to bed with a fashion magazine. The room is unpretentious. It is squarish, with green stripe wallpaper and an icon over the bed. From a corner, a television set stares blindly. His Majesty likes to watch Bonanza.

In the bathroom, the king steps out of his pajamas and feels the temperature of the shower. He soaps himself vigorously and, for a moment, dwells upon the body he does not trust. It is a sturdy mechanism, 28 years old, good for walking, talking, fathoming, water skiing, driving fast cars — a tall strong frame, but Simeon II looks upon it as a time bomb.

He fears heart disease and he fears his own rage. He is nervous, impatient with delay, and cannot forgive stupidity. Some-

Will It Be Another Korea 'Peace' in Southeast Asia?

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — The President has spoken, the newspapers on both sides of the Iron Curtain have spoken, and the critics inside the United States have had their say, too. But the crucial answer to what lies ahead in Southeast Asia is still unrevealed by Peking or Moscow.

The Communists have used the last few days to analyze Mr. Johnson's remarks at last Wednesday's news conference and doubtless have come to some conclusion. It can only be guessed what they have decided but it would not be surprising if they became convinced that, despite all the brave words, the American government doesn't really mean to fight to the bitter end and now is desperately seeking a way to extricate itself from a frustrating situation.

For, while President Johnson talked eloquently about America's unwillingness to surrender or appease, his speech reflects a discomfiture over the demands of many Americans, inside and outside of politics, who feel the United States government should get out of Viet Nam as gracefully as possible no matter how prolonged the peace conferences may be.

America consented, as did the United Nations, to join in just such an unsatisfactory ending of the Korean War. To this day nothing has been settled, and Korea is still divided. There isn't even a peace treaty in existence to replace the armistice agreement.

Is the United States government getting ready to do this again? If so, all the fine talk about a refusal to surrender will go for naught. The enemy knows that the American people are in the midst of a business boom and assumes that the pleasures and luxuries of a "Great Society-to-be" are considered more desirable than sending the boys to war or skyrocketing the expenditures of government so that a choice has to be made of "guns or butter."

A similar illusion in the Democratic countries about "peace at any price" led to World War I and then later to World War II. The Red Chinese and the Soviets, although permitting their press to cry out loudly that America is bent on "aggression," are likely within their private councils, however, to conclude that Mr. Johnson's speech was a turning point in policy, for he spoke of a "measured" operation. This could be interpreted to mean limited forces which might do nothing decisive to checkmate the growing escalation of guerrilla warfare in Viet Nam.

The President in his speech made no reference to the Russians, as, it is said, he didn't want to hurt their feelings and even counts on their help behind the scenes in restraining the Red Chinese. The only mention of Red China was in the following paragraph, of Mr. Johnson's talk: "Some citizens of South Viet Nam, at times with understandable grievances, have joined in the attack on their own government. But we must not let this mask the central fact that this is really war. It is guided by North Viet Nam. It is supported by Communist Red China. Its goal is to conquer the South, to defeat American power and to extend the Asiatic dominion of communism."

But who sent technicians and supplies to build the missile bases in North Viet Nam? Obviously it was the Russians. The plain truth is that Red China and the Soviet Union today are engaged in a war against the United States, just as Moscow and Peking made war against the United Nations in Korea in 1950 — the Soviets by furnishing munitions and supplies, as the Russian delegate to the UN openly boasted, and the Red Chinese by sending their big armies across the Yalu River to kill tens of thousands of American boys.

The United Nations responded to diplomatic pressure from Great Britain and France and refrained from bombing the supply lines across the Yalu to the Red Chinese invaded South Korea. Today it looks as if the same thing is developing in Viet Nam, as American airmen have been cautioned to limit their bombing attacks instead of waging all-out war against the enemy bases and supply lines.

So the world may be facing another defeat for the principle of united action against Communist imperialism. The impression given by the Johnson administration last week — however, unintentional such a meaning may have been — is that a decision has been made to get out of the mess some way, but not by fighting to a victorious conclusion.

Another stalemate, therefore, is in prospect. For, while professing no willingness to retreat, the Administration has adopted a standstill strategy. Will the enemy now misconstrue this as weakness, and will this necessitate in the long run bigger and bigger military commitments anyway and greater sacrifices by American troops? Peking and Moscow — some know the answer.

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery. In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

Net Income Up, Is C-H Report

"A high level of economic activity in the Mid-Hudson Region" was credited by Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation executives for the continued growth of the utility's business during the second quarter of this year.

In its quarterly report to more than 18,000 holders of common stock, Central Hudson reported net income for the quarter at $1,926,811. Net income for the 12 months ending June 30 was $7,412,766. These figures compare with $1,830,470 for the quarter and $6,874,337 for the 12-month period one year ago.

On a per share basis, the 1965 earnings are equivalent to 50 cents for the quarter and $1.91 for the 12 months on 3,370,073 shares of common stock outstanding. This compares with 1964 figures of 47 cents and $1.75 on the same number of shares.

During the second quarter of this year, electric revenues increased 6 per cent, notwithstanding the effect of reductions in residential rates. Industrial revenues increased 11 per cent and commercial revenues increased 9 per cent.

Gas revenues for the quarter were up 9 per cent.

Ike Supports LBJ Viet View, Urges UN Action

MINOCQUA, Wis. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has expressed disappointment with the United Nations' position on South Viet Nam.

"I am disappointed that the United Nations has not shown the initiative to get the facts and the marshal world opinion behind South Viet Nam's fight for life," he said.

Eisenhower made the comment during a vacation Sunday, called for support of President Johnson's policies in the Viet Nam conflict.

The former president said the White House has facts not available to the public, adding:

"It is futile and difficult for the private citizen to talk about what should be done in Viet Nam. To develop opposition in times of crisis is to split the country."

Eisenhower made the comments to a newsmen as he and his wife left nearby Woodruff by private railroad car to return to Gettysburg, Pa., after a 13-day vacation in the Northern Wisconsin lakes region.

A crowd of about 200 turned out in cold and rainy weather for the departure. The former president said, "I hope people come to see me because I was square with them as president and kept the country prosperous and at peace. I'm glad they aren't throwing rocks."

The vacation was his sixth in the Minocqua area since World War II. He stayed at the private estate of New York art dealer Howard Young.

"I had a wonderful time loafing, shooting and fishing," he said, adding he caught nearly the limit of bass in each of four outings.

Asked if he would return in 1966, Eisenhower, 74, replied, "I can't predict a year ahead. At my age you can't plan that far away."

Falls Into Ditch

A 35-year-old Massachusetts woman was injured early today when the 1965 car she was driving went out of control and into a ditch off Route 28 near Stony Hollow. Peggy Collins, Springfield, was taken to Benedictine Hospital by Doctor's ambulance. She suffered lacerations of the face, according to a report of Deputy Sheriff Robert Doran and John Daly. The car was going north when the accident occurred near the parking lot at Rene's Restaurant.

Will Offer ...

NATO council in Paris July 26. The four Western delegations at the disarmament conference — the United States, Britain, Canada and Italy — are working out a compromise version.

Conference sources said they expect an agreed draft to be submitted to the conference by the middle of August under the joint auspices of all four governments and with the blessing of West Germany, which is not represented at the conference.

Car Hits Pole

Jerri L. Kirby, 47, Lakeland, Fla., apparently escaped injury at 11:20 p. m. Sunday when his car went out of control on Route 9W near Port Ewen and hit a utility pole on the right side of the highway. Deputy Sheriff Daniel Levy, who investigated, reported the driver said he fell asleep at the steering wheel.

Auxiliary Police

Edwin Chase, 79, Ex-Wawarsing Supervisor Dies

Edwin C. Chase, 79, a former supervisor of the Town of Wawarsing died Sunday at his home.

A native of Oliveira, he was born May 13, 1886, a son of the late Romain and Elizabeth Davis Chase. He was married to Blanche Rikert at Kingston on Oct. 12, 1911.

Mr. Chase was a resident of Napanoch for 42 years and a retired principal of Ellenville School System.

He served as Republican supervisor for the township from 1958 to 1961. Mr. Chase was a member of St. Mark's Methodist Church and a past president, treasurer of the church and served as an honorary trustee until the time of his death.

He was a member of Napanoch Fire Department, Isaac Walton League of America, Wawarsing Sportsmen's Association.

Surviving are his wife, a son, Richard of Napanoch; a granddaughter and a great-grandson; also nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday 2 p. m. at Loucks Funeral Home, Inc., 79 North Main Street, Ellenville. The Rev. Wilbert Bradley, pastor of St. Mark's Church will officiate. Burial will be in Fantinekill Cemetery, Ellenville.

Friends may call at the funeral home today and Tuesday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m. Members of Napanoch Fire Department will meet at the funeral home Tuesday 7:30 p. m.

Hospital Granted $4,900 for Program

Sister M. Ann Elizabeth, administrator, announced today that St. Francis Hospital has received a grant of $4,900 from the U. S. Public Health Service to support the educational program of the Oral Cancer Prevention and Detection Center.

This program is directed toward the laymen of the Mid-Hudson area served by the Center, as well as the dentists and physicians.

The training for the doctors will include a symposium in 1966 and a special course for the Center Staff at Walter Reed Army Medical Center. A set of color slides with an instruction manual will be developed for the purpose of teaching doctors the principles of a thorough examination of the soft tissues of the oral cavity and glands of the neck.

Johnson ...

sion to serve as House Republican leader.

Asked if the incident would affect future bipartisan consultations, Johnson said, "No, I'm not going to provoke any light."

He told newsmen Mansfield did not mention reserve forces in a written memo "and it was not in any of his discussions."

Ford Speaks Up

Ford's statement: "I am deeply concerned by the White House comment. Sen. Mansfield's statement Tuesday afternoon at the White House conference made no mention of the call of the military reserves. I have made no subsequent comment to anyone connecting Sen. Mansfield's views with the President's decision not to call up reserves to active duty at this time."

Johnson, who plans to return to Washington late tonight after what he described as "a delightful, restful weekend," said on other matters:

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has ordered to trim every unneeded military job so it will be easier to fill troop requirements in Viet Nam.

Robert W. Akers, an old Johnson friend and retired Texas newspaper editor, will become deputy director of the U.S. Information Agency, succeeding Donald Wilson who resigned.

President talks with Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg, a weekend guest, covered the whole gamut of United Nations affairs and the potential U.N. role in promoting a Viet Nam settlement.

The President, with his wife passing out hot cookies and offering coffee and soft drinks, met newsmen after he, Lady Bird and the Goldbergs attended Sunday services at the First Christian Church in Johnson City.

In the evening, Johnson helicoptered to Lake Lyndon B. Johnson for some speedboating. Wearing a pale blue sports shirt and matching cap, Johnson piloted the craft as it pulled some water skiers.

ROUTE 32 SMASHUP—Joseph Costello, 28, a salesman from The Bronx, was arrested on a charge of driving while intoxicated after two-car collision about 3 p. m. Saturday on Route 32 about a quarter mile south of the city line. Bail was fixed at $200 at his appearance before Peace Justice Robert Stedje, Town of Ulster, and the case was adjourned to August 9. Deputies Ernest Ahlberg and Ray Davis, who investigated and made the arrest, said Costello was driving north when his vehicle left shoulder of highway and collided with southbound car operated

Star Cary Grant, Bride, Sojourn In England

BRISTOL, England (AP) — Cary Grant and his 27-year-old bride spent a quiet Sunday alone in their honeymoon hotel suite.

The staff of Bristol's Royal Hotel told callers Grant had left at 6 a. m. Sunday for the country. They said they weren't sure when he would return.

But all the time, Grant, 61, and his bride, blonde American actress Dyan Cannon, remained in their third-floor suite. A hotel porter acted as a guard outside the suite.

Grant revealed Saturday that they were married quietly in Las Vegas, Nev., last month with only a few close friends attending. The bride's father said the wedding took place July 22.

The actor told an interviewer: "We kept it very private because marriage is a very private affair and I prefer to do things quietly, without fanfare or intrusion."

Grant kept things that way Sunday. He and his bride had no visitors, accepted no messages or phone calls and took their meals in their suite.

The couple went Saturday to a nursing home in nearby Clifton to visit Grant's 87-year-old mother, Mrs. Elsie Leach. She has been a patient there for about a year.

Grant first met Miss Cannon four years ago after he saw her on a television show. He had her agent arrange a meeting because he wanted to cast her for a film.

Grant's first marriage in 1934 to actress Virginia Cherrill ended less than a year later. He married Woolworth heiress Barbara Hutton in 1942, and that marriage was dissolved three years later. In 1949 he married actress Betsy Drake. That lasted nine years.

Miss Cannon began her Hollywood career eight years ago with a bit part in a movie. She has appeared since then in a number of movies and television shows. Most recently she had the female lead in the road company of "How To Succeed in Business Without Really Trying."

Jersey Man Dies

in the same car. John E. Scherer, 22, of Carthage, an occupant of the other car, died Saturday in Mercy Hospital, Watertown.

Other deaths, by community, included:

Schuylerville — Mrs. Frieda B. Richmond, 58, Porter Corners, went off Rte. 29 Friday night. She died Saturday at Saratoga County Hospital.

Syracuse — James F. Manser, 31, Syracuse, car wrecked off a dirt road and crashed into a grove of trees Saturday.

Chester — Wallace Nozkowski, 17, Chester, killed by electric shock Saturday while trying to cut copper wiring from a utility pole.

Livingston Manor — Keith Owen of Livingston Manor, 18, car hit a tree Sunday.

Watertown — Stephen L. Youngs, 5, run over by a tractor Sunday.

Cayuga — Jerry W. Cook, 18, Seneca Falls, two-car collision Sunday at intersection of Rtes. 5 and 20.

How to Apply for Cash Benefits Under New Social Security Law

By JOHN TROAN
NEA Special Writer

Three types of monthly payments are available under Social Security:

Retirement benefits. Survivors' benefits. Disability benefits.

To draw any of them, you must apply at a Social Security district office. For the nearest office, inquire at your post office or check under "Social Security Administration" in your phone directory.

You must be at least 62 years old to get a retirement benefit. But you can never draw your retirement benefit unless you wait until you are at least 65 to start collecting it.

When you apply for your retirement benefit you should take along:

• Your Social Security card, or some record on which your Social Security number appears.

• Your income-tax "withholding statement" (Form W-2) for the previous year. (Or if you are self-employed, a copy of your last federal income-tax return.)

• Some proof of your age.

The best proof of age is a birth certificate, or a baptismal certificate issued shortly after birth.

If you don't have either, you may use some other document to establish your age. Such as a certified hospital birth record; a signed statement from the midwife or doctor who attended your birth; a marriage record showing your age when married; a child's birth certificate which happens to show your age; a family Bible; a military discharge paper; an immigration or naturalization record; a passport; a vaccination record; an old insurance policy; a certified union record; an employment record showing your age; a record from a foreign church or government; or a license, permit or voting record showing your age.

Generally, the older the document, the better. And if you don't have any other satisfactory evidence of age you may ask the U. S. Census Bureau to check its records for you. The fee: $4.

If you qualify for retirement benefits, your wife also may be eligible—provided she is at least 62. In such case she must prove her age and her relationship to you (a marriage certificate will do). She also should produce her own Social Security Card, if she has one, so the government can figure out whether she qualifies for a higher benefit on the basis of her own work record or yours.

Even if she's under 62, your wife may draw a retirement benefit provided you have in your care a child who is under 18 or is incapable of self-support due to a disability incurred before age 18. In such event, the child also would be eligible for monthly benefits. So proof of the child's age (or disability) would be required.

Where a wife draws a retirement benefit on her own, her husband also may qualify—provided he is at least 62 and can prove he depends on her for at least half of his financial support.

You may apply for retirement benefits three months before reaching retirement age (to avoid delay of payments) or any time thereafter. But retirement checks can't be dated back more than 12 months.

In case of death, the widow may draw survivors' benefits provided she is at least 60—or has in her care at least one child who is under 18 or was disabled before age 18.

To claim survivors' benefits, a widow must submit her husband's death certificate, his Social Security card or a record of his Social Security number, her marriage certificate, and proof of her age. Also, birth certificates of any children eligible to draw such payments.

Incidentally, an unmarried child aged 18 through 21 who is still in school may now qualify for retirement or survivors' benefits but the mother doesn't.

Again, evidence of the child's age is needed—as well as proof the child is a full-time student in a college or other bona fide school (including vocational school).

Survivors' benefits also may be drawn by the parent or widower of a deceased worker provided the individual is at least 62 and depended on the worker for at least 50 per cent of financial support.

In event of death, a lump-sum benefit also is payable. This goes to the widow or widower—who must present a death certificate to claim it. If no spouse survives, the lump-sum death benefit may be claimed by the person who paid the burial expenses. In such instances, a receipted funeral bill as well as a death certificate is required.

To draw disability benefits, the worker must establish total disability which is expected to last at least 12 months or to result in death. If you're unable to apply at a Social Security office, the agency will send someone to take your application personally.

If you qualify, disability benefits would be payable also to your wife if she is at least 62 or is caring for a child under 18 or one disabled before 18. Benefits would be payable also to such children plus any child under 22 who is still in school.

(NEXT: Hospital benefits under the basic Medicare plan.)

Rare Coin Stolen

TORONTO (AP)—A rare gold sovereign valued at between $16,000 and $25,000 has been stolen from a Toronto coin dealer, police said Saturday.

They said the 1916 coin disappeared from the coin and stamp shop of Rick Salway who had planned to send it to New York this weekend to be sold.

The British coin, minted in Canada during World War I, is one of four known copies. More than 6,000 of the coins were minted for the British government, but most were lost when

Lawyers Initiate Drive to Deadend Crime Explosion

The American Trial Lawyers Association today came up with what may be the answer to the crime explosion within our nation during their national convention at Miami Beach, Fla.

Before a gathering of 5,000 lawyers from throughout the country, National ATL President Joseph Kerner of New York City summed up the answer:

"A public relations campaign within the bar and within the public body to clear away the fog and smog now surrounding criminal law practice."

And Kerner took immediate action to launch the campaign with a national program which includes:

Initiation in over 100 cities within the 50 states of an educational training program for civil lawyers to teach them the problems facing the bar in criminal courts and show them the solutions.

Creation of a national and statewide speakers' bureau of trained criminal lawyers to go before community audiences and explain in clear and simple language the constitutional law intricacies that protect our fundamental rights.

Demanding action and not words to meet the urgent call for thousands of trained lawyers for our criminal courts, Kerner launched his program by unveiling a teaching criminal law program at the convention.

He immediately named a national committee to co-operate with the already successful, organized ATL seminar traveling teams to conduct teaching programs in criminal law.

Kerner also charged American Trial Lawyers Public Affairs Chairman Jacob D. Fuchsberg of New York with the immediate task of organizing statewide "public information" programs.

Probing Mishaps

State Police were investigating two traffic accidents at Freeman press time today.

A number of persons were injured and hospitalized. Two unidentified persons injured in an accident on Route 209 just north of Marlinton were taken by Fatum's ambulance to Benedictine Hospital. The other mishap occurred in Glenierie. No other information was available at press time.

Dies in Wheat Field

While harvesting wheat in a field at Camp Hayden, Kenhokson, at 5:15 p. m. Saturday, Juan Pacheco, 34, of Puerto Rico, collapsed and died, according to Kingston State Trooper Norman Kilfoyle.

Taking Steps To Ready Units Of Reserves

WASHINGTON AP — Deputy Secretary of Defense Cyrus R. Vance said today the Pentagon is undertaking special measures to increase the readiness of certain reserve units in case a call-up should become necessary.

Vance told a House Armed Services subcommittee that three Army Reserve divisions, six independent brigades and certain combat and service support units would get the special attention.

The subcommittee is investigating the Pentagon plan to reorganize the Army's Reserves.

Park Department Schedule Listed

The nocturnal program of the Recreation Dept. for the first week in August will once again feature a full length film entitled "Law of the Lawless" starring Dale Robertson, Yvonne DeCarlo, William Bendix and Jody McCrea.

A former gunfighter turns to the study of law. Dale Robertson is the circuit court judge who finally faces his father's killer in a small post-civil War Kansas town.

The film will be shown at Forsyth Park on Tuesday, Block Park, Wednesday and Hutton Park, Thursday, starting at dusk. In addition to the regular weekly schedule the movie "Misadventures of Merlin Jones" will be shown Monday night at Forsyth Park. This film arrived too late to be shown at Forsyth last week so is being shown Monday at dusk.

Other nocturnal activities during the week will be the opening of the summer basketball league at the Municipal Auditorium Wednesday evening with three games scheduled on opening night starting at 7 p. m. All schedule will be played on Thursday also at the auditorium.

The regular Friday night dance will again be held at Forsyth Park Friday evening. The dance will be from 7:30 until 10 p. m. and will feature a well known musical group. The change in hours has been made in order to completely comply with the new city curfew.

By ending the dance at 10 p. m. all 16-year-olds and under have sufficient time to get to their homes by 11 o'clock curfew time.

The daytime activities will feature the Ken-L-Ration Kids Dog Shows at Block Park, Monday, Hasbrouck Park, Tuesday, Hutton Park, Wednesday and Forsyth Park, Thursday.

All dog shows will start at 10 a. m. All children having dogs as a pet are invited to compete in the seven different classes offered at the shows.

This week will be visitation week in all parks. Playground supervisors will take a group of children from their park to points of interest in the city.

Points of interest which will be visited by different groups will be Kingston Daily Freeman, Radio Station WGHQ, Kingston Fire and Police Departments, Kingston Library, Senate House and Kingston Post Beach.

Visitations will take place the latter part of the week and will be arranged with the cooperation of the places to be visited. These visits in past years have proved to be not only good recreation but also of a very educational nature.

Silent About Wound
Police were notified at 7:55 p. m. Saturday that John Watkins, 34, of 52 Murray Street, was treated at Kingston Hospital for a head wound. He was taken to the hospital from lower Broadway by Doctor's ambulance. Police said he refused to explain how he had been hurt.

Tickets on Sale For Rotary Club Chicken Barbecue

Tickets for the 13th annual chicken barbecue on Aug. 14 put on by the Kingston Rotary Club at the former Beatty Farm are still available.

Dr. Clem L. Angstrom, chairman of the ticket committee, announced today that all members of the Rotary Club have tickets. Persons who would like to attend and do not happen to know a member of the club may call Dr. Angstrom or Clarence H. Budenhagen, co-chairman of the committee.

Members of the club do all the work, including the erection of the large tent under which the barbecue is served, preparation and cooking of the food, serving and clean up. The equipment, including the pit on which 325 chickens are barbecued at the same time, is owned by the club. During recent years well over 1,000 persons have been served.

This year service will start earlier than usual in order to serve the four sittings before dark. Anyone desiring to eat early can be served at 3 p. m. The last serving will be completed by 7 p. m.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK AP—The stock market became irregular early this afternoon after wiping out most of a small early gain.

The averages at mid-day were still slightly ahead but the performance of key stocks throughout the list was fairly ragged.

Steels turned weak, with U. S. Steel down more than a point as Wall Street began pondering the risks of a strike by the new decade of Sept. 1.

Selective strength appeared in a mixed auto section. Nonferrous metals all were higher and there was a steady-to-higher trend among airlines.

Utilities, chemicals, oils, tobaccos and mail-order retailers were scrambled.

The market was higher at the start but it soon became apparent that the list was having trouble in maintaining its advance into the fourth straight session.

The Associated Press average of 50 stocks at noon was up .3 at 326.6 with industrials up .3, rails up .3 and utilities unchanged.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up .50 at 882.24.

Quotes Rise Per Share
Chicago — Consolidated earnings of Combined Insurance Company of America rose 51.9 per cent during the first six months of 1965 to an all-time record, the company reported today.

Consolidated net profits for Combined and its three wholly-owned subsidiaries were $3,391,000 for the first six months compared to $3,549,000 for the same period last year.

Earnings per share were 77 cents compared to 51 cents based on 7,000,000 shares presently issued and outstanding.

WHITEPORT ROAD ACCIDENT—Trooper Thomas Searles, Lake Katrine substation, checks damage after one-car accident about 3:30 p. m. Saturday on Whiteport Road, Town of Rosendale, in which driver and passenger were injured and the driver was arrested. Ronald Eng, 29, of Boston Road, The Bronx, was driving north when he lost control of vehicle after passing railroad crossing. Car then struck a tree. Eng and Charles Parcells, 21, of Woodhaven Boulevard, Woodhaven, his passenger, were taken by Doctors ambulance to Kingston Hospital. Driver suffered cuts to the arms and left eyelid. Parcells, a lance corporal in U. S. Marine Corps, who suffered right ear cuts and possible skull fracture, was later transferred to the hospital at West Point. Eng paid a $75 fine when he admitted charge of driving while intoxicated at his arraignment before Peace Justice Daniel McMonagle, Town of Rosendale. Troopers Searles and Normas Kilfoyle investigated. (Freeman photo by Kruh)

Boycott Clamped On Milk Deliveries

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Two of the northeast's largest dairy cooperatives are clamping a boycott on deliveries of milk to three western New York plants owned by Grandview Dairies Co.

The move is aimed at dramatizing farmers' protests against the company's decision to charge them for hauling milk in bulk-tank milk trucks.

Officials of the Dairyman's League and Northeast Cooperative Federation said Sunday they had stopped the shipments of about 300,000 pounds — approximately 150,000 quarts — of milk a day to Grandview.

There was no comment from company officials.

Lester W. Martin, president of the Dairyman's League and John P. Spofford, head of Northeast, said the dispute was a "test case."

The two cooperatives claim to represent about 25,000 of the 40,000 dairy-farmers in the New York-New Jersey milkshed.

Continue Tillson Probe

Kingston State Police today continued investigation of a burglary reported at a summer home owned by Peter Oettinger, Tillson, according to State Trooper Norman Kilfoyle. The break occurred sometime between July 27 and Thursday. Taken by the intruder were tools, two flash cameras, liquor and other articles, troopers said.

Teenie-Boppers Foiled

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP) — Rhode Island will begin issuing new drivers' license forms next month printed on crumpled paper. They are designed to foil teen-agers who try to alter licenses for use as identification in buying alcoholic beverages.

Business at Dawn

ATHENS, Ga. (AP) — More than 1,500 delegates to the Poultry Science Association convention at the University of Georgia next week will get up with the chickens. Their first business session is scheduled for 6:30 a.m.

Connally Undecided

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. John Connally of Texas says he has not yet decided whether to run for the Senate in 1968.

If he did so, the Democrat would oppose Republican Sen. John Tower.

Would End Quota

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Judiciary Committee may finish work Tuesday on a bill to do away with the 40-year-old national quota system for regulating immigration.

HOT ITEM—Dr. Ray Jackson, of the Department of Agriculture, takes a swig from his solar still in Tempe, Ariz. the enemy wants to test our reaction," he said.

Thirty-seven Viet Cong were reported killed in two government operations in the northern part of the country, 20 in Quang Ngai Province 330 miles north-east of Saigon and 17 in Binh Thuan Province 95 miles north-east of Saigon.

Vietnamese casualties were reported "light" in both operations.

Communist forces opened fire on 15 government positions South of Saigon. They also hit three outposts south of Hue, 390 miles north of Saigon, and knocked out 30 feet of a highway bridge and a section of railroad bridge near Da Nang.

A small U.S. Marine patrol near Da Nang was caught in an open rice field by sniper fire. A military spokesman said casualties were heavy.

Red Targets
Among the Communist targets were the provincial capitals of Long An, 20 miles south of Saigon, and Go Cong, 35 miles south of the capital. One American was among the wounded at Go Cong.

The guerrillas also fired on a South Korean military camp at Di An, near the Bien Hoa air base, Sunday night but no casualties were reported.

U.S. war planes continued bombing raids against targets in North Viet Nam and suspected Viet Cong installations in South Viet Nam. Forward artillery observers claimed 230 Viet Cong were killed by air strikes in South Viet Nam during a 24-hour period ending Sunday.

Mass Trial Opens
The government opened a mass military trial in Saigon today of 21 persons charged with undermining the war effort by signing various peace petitions.

The tribunal has the power to impose death sentences.

Defendants include Nguyen Long, an attorney who headed the now defunct "People's Self-Determination Movement," which advocated a cease-fire.

One of two women on trial is Pham Thi Thanh Van, whose father was thanked to the communist North with two other peace movement leaders earlier this year.

A U.S. spokesman said that James S. Killen, director of U.S. economic aid to South Viet Nam, is leaving his post to return to Washington. Killen, 57, has administered the foreign aid program since July 1964.

The spokesman did not say when Killen would leave his post.

Discuss More Men
U.S. military commanders gathered in Honolulu today to discuss the 50,000-man buildup planned for Viet Nam. Among those attending were Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. commander in Viet Nam, and Adm. U. S. Grant Sharp Jr., commander of U.S. forces in the Pacific.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., said on a radio and television program (CBS) — Face the Nation) from Washington Sunday that it is vital to establish a stable civil government in South Viet Nam.

"Our biggest mistake" has been the "overemphasizing of the military and not putting enough emphasis on the civilian side," he said.

Russell said if there were a plebiscite in South Viet Nam, the people "would vote to place themselves under Ho Chi Minh," the North Vietnamese president because of the instability of the South Vietnamese government.

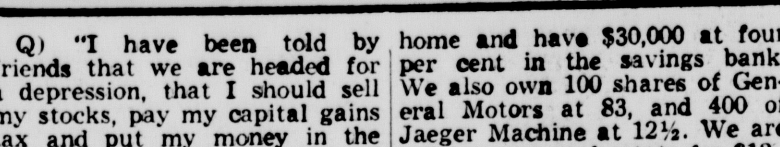

Authoritative sources in New Delhi said nonaligned nations are going to make a new attempt to bring governments concerned in Viet Nam to the conference table.

Spear Says No Depression

Q) "I have been told by friends that we are headed for a depression, that I should sell my stocks, pay my capital gains tax and put my money in the bank. I do not like the idea of getting out of some of my good stocks. What do you suggest?"

A) I'm afraid I must emphatically disagree with your friends. I do not believe we are headed for a depression, although it appears that some economic indices will be in recessionary trends later this year and in 1966. It may be that the market as a whole has lost its steam on the upside, and that a plateau or even a moderate bear market is ahead.

However, in such a market, history shows that there are always industry groups and individual issues that buck the trend and move on to higher earnings and profit levels. In fact, this has already begun to happen. It is my opinion that with thorough study and competent advice, you can keep your funds rather fully committed in stocks and not have to worry about a depression.

Q) "My wife and I are both 63-years-of-age. We own our home and have $30,000 at four per cent in the savings bank. We also own 100 shares of General Motors at $3, and 400 of Jaeger Machine at $12 1/2. We are selling some real estate for $12,000 and are considering investing this money in Madison Fund. Please give us your opinion."

A) General Motors is, I feel, a satisfactory stock to continue to hold. Jaeger Machine fails to carry much appreciation in spite of the high level of road-building and construction. Earnings have been pursuing an irregularly downward course for some years. Sale of Jaeger is advised.

Why not place about one-third your real estate proceeds in Madison Fund? To get better balance — and diversification — you might consider investments in Ohio Edison, American Telephone and National Biscuit.

Plumbers in 2nd Week of Picketing At Alsen Plant

Members of Albany Plumbers Union, Local 7, went into their second week of picketing today at the Marquette Cement Manufacturing Co. plant at Alsen in Greene County where a new plant is under construction.

Partial closing of the plant operation began a week ago today when it was reported that iron workers from an Albany local crossed the picket lines.

However, members of the carpenters local from Kingston observed the picket line. It also was reported that legal action might be taken before the National Labor Relations Board for alleged violation of a secondary boycott in violation of the Taft-Hartley Act.

Marquette has a new plant under construction, the labor jurisdiction of which is under the jurisdiction of the Ulster-Sullivan-Greene Building Trades Council. Some 200 men are affected.

A plant spokesman told The Freeman this morning that while the ironworkers have crossed the picket lines, it was being honored by all construction-affiliated unions.

Marquette Lists Income
Marquette Cement Manufacturing Company today reported net income for the second quarter ended June 30 was $2,397,489 of 70 cents per common share on receipts totaling $24,438,701. This compares with $2,970,751 or 88 cents per common share on receipts of $24,408,000 in the same quarter last year, before special charge.

MANNERS FOR SMOKERS ARE FEW AND SIMPLE

Smokers should carry their own cigarettes. Even though the knowing hostess has filled her cigarette boxes (to put filter-tips in some boxes and "regulars" in others is thoughtful), she will appreciate the guest who does not depend entirely on her supply.

When a man is about to smoke, it is polite to offer a cigarette to those next to him, or in his immediate group, but he need not pass them further afield. And a warning to the ladies—the feminine cigarette "sponge" is no more popular than the male.

A man should light a woman's cigarette if he is close to her, but not if he is on the other side of a table or if it would be awkward in any way.

A woman smoker should carry her own matches or lighter and use them. She only looks ridiculous sitting with a dangling cigarette, waiting for a group of men to break up their conversation in order to provide her with a light.

Pipe smokers must exert extra caution when emptying a pipe since it sometimes takes a sharp rap to loosen the burned tobacco in the bowl. They should select a large sturdy ash tray, for they may shatter a delicate glass or fine china receptacle or, if it is too small, find their ashes spraying all over the table top.

A few special words to the cigar smoker: First, don't leave cigar butts in ash trays. They do smell, and they are unattractive in appearance. Unless you see that someone is prepared to remove the ash tray when you are finished smoking, try to find another means of disposing of the finished cigar.

Second, you must ask permission to smoke a cigar in mixed company. Naturally, when cigars are passed to the men after dinner or offered (traditionally) in an office to celebrate the birth of a baby or any male gathering, you are expected to smoke them. Many women find cigar smoke unpleasant, if not actually nauseating, and your popularity with the opposite sex will quickly wane if you do not determine the attitude of your companion before lighting a cigar.

Two One Act Plays In Woodstock; Open on Tuesday

Two plays by Broadway's "hottest" playwrights, Edward Albee and Murray Schisgal, are currently providing an evening of theatre at the Woodstock: "The Zoo Story" by Mr. Albee and "The Tiger" by Mr. Schisgal.

The plays will run through Sunday, August 8.

Edward Albee's "The Zoo Story" is a chilling exercise in suitable horror. Two men meet on a bench in Central Park, one of them a quiet family man smoking his pipe and reading a book. The other is strangely frightening, rudely out-spoken and naggingly inquisitive. He intimates that he knows what is going to happen, and then provokes his companion into making it happen, an act of staggering violence that is utterly alien to his character.

Matthew Lewis plays the family man and William Ade is seen as the stranger he meets.

It is easy to see why "The Zoo Story" catapulted Mr. Albee to fame. It is an engrossing play that haunts the viewer.

"The Tiger" by Murray Schisgal, is in a lighter vein, although it also has undercurrents of violence. A scruffy middle-aged bachelor abducts a young woman and carries her to his basement room. There they begin to talk and out of the conversation, often hilarious developments, a relationship in which they are united in their opinions about the world.

Marta Sexton plays the intelligent young woman and William Ade portrays the frustrated bachelor, a postman who couldn't get his college degree because of an inability to master French.

"The Tiger" is an exciting forerunner to "Luv," Mr. Schisgal's current Broadway hit. Harold Baldridge is director.

Women of the Moose

Women of the Moose, Chapter 697, will hold a regular meeting Wednesday, Aug. 4th at 8 p. m. in the Moose Lodge, 82 Prince Street, this city.

It will be officers' chapter night with Eileen Nessel, chairman. The committee will be composed of Helen Hornbeck, Ann Peters, Lorraine Nessel, Helen Lambase, and Marion Robinson.

A social hour will be held after the meeting. Refreshments will be served. All members are urged to attend.

GUSTAVO LOPEZ, considered to be one of the world's greatest guitarists, will give a concert in the Woodstock Playhouse on Monday, August 9th. Mr. Lopez will play songs from the Renaissance and works by Bach, Schubert, Schumann and Villa-Lobos. Mr. Lopez has given concerts in many countries. He has also appeared with the Budapest String Quartet playing in the Boccherini guitar quintet. The concert will begin at 8:40 p. m.

Enlarge 4-H Center By Pioneer Method

WHITLEY CITY, Ky. (AP) —

The men brought their frowns and axes. The women, dressed in bonnets and long dresses, brought venison, fodder bread, sassafras tea and spoon bread. The occasion was an old-fashioned log raising, just like grandpa and grandma used to talk about, for an addition to the 4-H club crafts center.

The original center was made from a 150-year-old cabin and an ancient log barn, dismantled and brought here piece by piece. The addition was erected just like the pioneers built their homes.

Men used broadaxes to hew logs into square beams for the walls of the 15-by-13-foot room. The logs were carried or dragged into position.

Then the frowns were put into action to make slaps of wood for the roof.

About 100 persons turned out to help, but those who used the primitive tools were only those who have been using them all their lives. The others pitched in on the unskilled labor or just watched.

In between, such old musical instruments as the dulcimer provided entertainment.

Capucci Introduces Glowing Beads on Paris Evening Gowns

By LOUISE HICKMAN AP Fashion Writer

PARIS AP — Phosphorescent ballgowns whirling around the darkened showroom put a surprising end to the art-patterned and geometrically-cut Capucci collection today.

Six models slipped into the salon all at once, and before anyone had caught a single detail on their bead-embroidered gowns, the lights went out. Every single bead glowed in the dark as the models turned and twirled around the room.

Smooth gabardines demasked in black and white optic patterns, were used for the suits and seven-eighths coats. He used ribbon bands of black to create patterns on patterns.

The Capucci silhouette is strict and almost straight, beautifully cut and shaped with soft shoulders. Collars rise and on smooth fleece coats they jut as well, faced with contrasting velvet to match the dress underneath.

Capucci dress necklines rose high in a continuous seamless cut, or were cut out in geometric stair-step outlines. He showed short kimono sleeves on almost all dresses and tiny overblouses under suits.

Suits and slender redingotes and some sexy new dresses are being shown by Chanel this season.

The Chanel suit stands although some felt it is cut just a shade closer to the body, and there is less complexity in the trimmings, but the essential look remains.

New spangly dresses, with what one expert called a "gambling-house" air-body-clinging with generous scooped décolletés — got great response in the Chanel opening Friday.

Chanel continues to use wrap-over skirts, most often lapped back and front. Sometimes the wrap conceals a double pleat for walking ease.

Linings come up out of jackets and turn over to make a double collar.

What goes inside a Chanel suit or coat is as important as the outside, and often cost more. Chanel says that she likes her things to look as pretty draped over the back of a chair, as on the back of a client.

Paltz to Host School Law Expert.

Five specialists in school law will review the legal aspects of recent school legislation at a one-day Mid-Hudson conference at State University College, New Paltz, Thursday, Aug. 5. The meeting is designed to brief lawyers, administrators, and teachers on the laws and new decisions by New York State Courts and the Commission of Education.

Among the speakers at the conference, sponsored by the College and the Mid-Hudson Study Council, will be Dr. Reynolds Seitz, Dean of the School of Law at Marquette University, and Dr. Lee O. Garber, editor of the Annual School Law Handbook and professor of education at the University of Pennsylvania. A former president of the National Organization of Legal Problems in Schools, Dr. Seitz will speak on collective bargaining in schools and Dr. Garber will discuss the legal problems of desegregation.

Other speakers at the meeting, the 10th Annual Conference on New York State School Law, include Herman J. Herbert Jr., First Vice President of the New York State Association of School Board Attorneys, who will discuss the legal relationships between school boards and administrators; John Jehu, Senior Attorney of the Division of Law in the State Education Department, who will speak about 1965 school legislation; and John Glenn, Counsel for the New York State Teachers Association, who will brief conferees on recent school law cases involving state teachers.

The registration fee will include luncheon and a report of all speeches and discussions at the Conference. Dr. William J. Hageny, Executive Secretary of the Study Council, is accepting registrations at the College.

Dear Abby . . .

It's A Losing Game!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: You are so ridiculously prejudiced in favor of the men that it gets quite nauseating at times. A man practically has to beat his wife to death before you will condemn him.

A woman wrote to ask if it was "stealing" to pick her husband's pants pockets while he slept, and you said it was!

As usual, you lit into the wife, completely ignoring the sin of her stingy husband, who gave her so little she had to steal to make ends meet.

When my husband and I had pre-marital instructions, our minister told us that money was community property between husband and wife, to be shared equally. Now, I ask you, how can anyone "steal" a portion of what is hers in the first place? Just because the husband gets his greedy fingers on the money first is no reason for HIM to steal HER share.

I hope your attitude improves in the future. "HOT IN THE SOUTH"

DEAR ABBY: I have always suspected that you hated men. Now I'm positive.

A poor, neglected husband asked you what to do about a wife who has to spend every day with her mother or else talk to her for hours on the phone. You told him he married a "mama's girl" and to learn to live with it. A lot of good that did him.

Why didn't you tell him he ought to give his wife a good hard boot in the bustle and tell her to stay home and act like a wife? And if that didn't knock some sense into her, pack her up and send her home to her mother?

EX-READER

DEAR ABBY: Why, oh, why do people get dogs, tie them up and let them bark from sun-up until sundown? I can't get any rest in the afternoon because the dogs bark. I can't sit out in the yard and enjoy the cool of the evening because the dogs bark. When I go to bed at night, I can't sleep because the dogs bark louder than ever. What am I to do? I am not a well man, and I'm . . .

NO SPRING CHICKEN
DEAR NO: If you know the owners of the barking dogs, complain to them directly. If the barking persists, call your local police department or sheriff's office. I don't know what the law enforcers of your community can (or will) do about it, but it's their job to maintain the "peace."

DEAR ABBY: My sister-in-law lives with me and she gets her mail here. Last week she received a letter. My three-year-old son tore the envelope halfway open, took the letter out and handed it to me. I was as surprised as anyone could be. I quickly put the letter back into the envelope and sealed it up again as best I could. Anyone could tell at a glance that the envelope had been torn open and resealed. When my sister-in-law came home and saw that letter she gave me the funniest look, but she didn't say anything.

I didn't say anything, either, because I don't think she would have believed me anyway. How can I make things right with her? Or is it too late? I feel so guilty, and yet I have nothing to feel guilty about. Please advise me. Y. J.

DEAR J. Y.: Tell your sister-in-law exactly what happened and try to clear the air. If she doesn't believe you, you'll be no worse off than you are now.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "E" IN WEST stay off the sauce. People who live in glass houses shouldn't get stoned.

On Honor List

John W. Wood, Cottekill is among 75 undergraduates at Rutgers State University, New Brunswick, N. J. named to the term honors list for the 1964-65 spring semester in the College of Engineering. Wood is a member of the Class of 1968.

MRS. SALVATORE BARBUTO

Daughter of Hurley Residents Is Wed To New York City Man on Saturday

Marriage vows were exchanged Saturday, July 31, 11 a. m. in a nuptial Mass at St. Philip the Apostle Church in Clifton, N. J. between Miss Dorothy Rose DeCicco of Clifton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael DeCicco, Hurley and Salvatore Barbuto, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Barbuto, New York City.

The Rev. Francis X. McCarthy officiated at the double ring ceremony. John Bednarz was soloist. Altar was decorated with yellow and white gladioli. White bows marked family pews.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a peau de soie gown, full-length A-line skirt, fashioned with an Alencon lace and rosettes and a square-cut peau de soie detachable train was bordered with Alencon lace.

The three-tiered veil of French illusion and pearlized double tiara with crystals completed her ensemble. She carried a cascade of phalaenopsis orchids, pale pink roses and stephanotis.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Donald Sands, the bride's sister of Riverdale, N. J. She wore an aqua crepe full-length gown in empire style with narrow train.

The waist of the gown and the headpiece were both accented with two aqua crepe roses. She carried aqua and white roses and carnations.

Flower girl was Miss Valerie Sands, the bride's niece. She wore a white organza and lace dress with blue velvet sash, and a crown of blue and white daisies.

Best man was Pat Barbuto of Yonkers, N. Y., the bridegroom's brother. Ushers were F. Barbuto and A. Regina, the bridegroom's brother and brother-in-law, respectively.

A reception was held at the Robin Hood Inn immediately after the ceremony. For the wedding trip to Canal Bay, St. John, Virgin Islands the bride wore turquoise and white silk dress with white accessories and white orchid corsage. The couple will reside in Clifton.

The bride received her Bachelor and Master of Arts degrees from SUNY, Albany. She conducted postgraduate studies at Columbia University and the University of Paris, Sorbonne College. She is head of the language department at Indian Hills High School in Oakland, N. J.

Mr. Barbuto received his Bachelor of Arts degree in business administration from City College of New York. A U. S. Army veteran, he is employed in the real estate department of the Port of New York Authority in Manhattan.

Both are members of the Catholic Alumni Club of New York City. The bride is a member of Nutsley Chapter of American Association of University Women, (AAUW).

Named to Dean's List

Carol Ann Spader, who will begin her sophomore year at Le Moyne College, Syracuse, N. Y. in September, has attained dean's list standing during the past semester. It was announced today by the Rev. Robert A. Mitchell, S. J., academic dean.

A graduate of Academy of St. Ursula, she is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Spader, 78 Pine Grove Avenue.

Local Teacher Attends Parley

Sister Mary Kieran of the English department of the Academy of St. Ursula is now attending a State Education Department sponsored English language arts workshop at Vassar College, Poughkeepsie.

This is the second of three-week workshops being held this summer to help the state's elementary and secondary school teachers review and use effectively the newly-revised English Language Arts syllabus.

Two hundred fifty school systems throughout the state are sending to the workshops teams chosen from the primary, intermediate, junior and senior high schools. Activities focus on a study of the new syllabus through presentations by the workshop staff, group discussions by participants and reports that are prepared in workshop sessions. Reports are edited and duplicated so that they may be taken back to the local school districts which are participating.

Sisterhood Agudas Achim

Activities scheduled by the Sisterhood of Congregation Agudas Achim will be outlined at a meeting of the congregation on Wednesday, Aug. 4 at 1 p. m. in the Synagogue, 24 West Union Street, this city.

This will be a combined meeting of the board members and Sisterhood members.

All members are urged to attend.

BRIDGE Bridge Silence Becomes Golden

BY JACOBY & SON 1965 Vanderbilt Cup Winners Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

An Ohio reader suggests that the column might give a few examples of unusual results due to the sort of mishaps that one does not always associate with experts.

We go back 30 odd years to the days before there were any ways to ask for aces. Our hero is the late Sherman Stearns of New York, winner of several national titles in the '30s and one of the greatest players of all time. The game was rubber bridge. He said to himself, "I have no spades," and the words, "Two spades," came out of his mouth.

He tried to correct to four hearts, six hearts and six no-trump, but eventually found himself at seven no-trump when his partner persisted with spades.

North had to give up at that point and Sherman proceeded to play the hand. As you can see the contract was an apparently hopeless one. Sherman could count on eleven tricks in top cards and a possible twelfth trick if diamonds broke but he had no trouble making the grand slam.

It seems that Sherman never gave away the fact that something was wrong with the bidding and as he ran off his heart tricks each opponent threw away a diamond in order to hang on to spades. The rest was a matter of taking his tricks.

Of course, they should have known that there was something peculiar about his two spade opening since he showed up with seven hearts and the ace of clubs but it turned out that neither one was able to visualize the actual spade void.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The United States goes on losing gold in spite of the much publicized balancing of its monetary give and take with other nations.

In late spring the United States managed to get more dollars back from abroad than it sent overseas in trade or aid or loans. But this surplus in its balance of payments after years of deficit didn't stop a further drain in June and July of the U.S. Treasury's gold reserves.

Why are American gold stocks still falling?

Officials explain that the years of deficits in U.S. monetary dealings have left other nations with billions of dollars on hand. Some of it is still being used to buy gold from the U.S. Treasury to build up the reserves of foreign countries.

A more specific reason for the latest loss of gold, $75 million of it last week, is that the over-all payments surplus achieved in late spring doesn't apply to all nations — the surplus is just the averaging out of all transactions.

That is, one nation may have had to dip into some of its reserve dollars in its dealings with had to dip into some of its reserve dollars in its dealings with the United States because it bought more here than it got from American buying or lending there. This helped Washington in its effort to achieve a surplus.

At the same time, another nation could have gone on raking in more Yankee dollars than it had to shell out. The trend of dealings with that country would still have been in terms of deficit. In that country dollars would be piling up that could be used to buy gold.

Some European countries, notably France, have been running a surplus in their own balance of payments. They have plenty of dollars, new or old, to exchange for gold if they wish. France, for one, is on record as intending to turn any new surplus of dollars into gold.

The American balance of payments surplus was achieved largely by the voluntary actions of U.S. corporations and banks, under prodding from Washington, to cut back on spending and lending abroad.

But of late much of American investment overseas has been in countries that don't run a surplus in their own payments. They have been, and still are, short of dollars. Cutting back on private spending by U.S. business with them may make for an over-all surplus on the books, but it doesn't affect other nations with dollars to spare.

Still another reason that the gold drain can't be written off yet lies in American export-import prospects. Nations that have a balance of payments surplus of their own and are therefore not starved for U.S. dollars, have been giving Americans increased competition in world markets. Part of this has been due to the rising cost of production this year in American factories, and part has been due to the increasing efficiency of foreign producers as their prosperity has been translated into better equipment and newer products.

To get more dollars back from overseas, Americans must export more. Some countries that most want American goods are short of dollars. Other nations, notably in Western Europe, have dollars to spend but are threatening to raise higher barriers against American goods.

The dollars they save could be turned in for gold.

Panel to Debate Creation in Art

John Taylor, Alexander Semmler and Jean Arnaldi, three prominent Woodstock figures, known nationally and internationally in the fields of art, music and literature are combining knowledge and experience in a panel discussion at the Woodstock Art Gallery Friday, Aug. 6 at 8:30 p. m. The purpose of this symposium is to rediscover the common factors, the underlying principles found and employed in these three creative fields.

The representative of the literary world, Jean Arnaldi (Mrs. Fletcher Martin) has been recognized in the field of novels and her stories have appeared in several magazines. Her latest novel, Fausto's Keyhole, was published in the United States and England. She has also taught literature in the Universities of Pittsburgh and Miami as well as in Rome. As a journalist she has worked with the Associated Press and other news agencies in New York and abroad.

Alexander Semmler needs no introduction as he is the hub of Woodstock music activities from the Turnau Opera to the Maverick Concerts. Composer, conductor and pianist, he was educated in Germany under the great composers. In the United States he became a member of the CBS Symphony Orchestra, later as staff-conductor. By special invitation of the U. S. State Department he was made American Administrator of the Music Department of the RIAS in Berlin. He also organized in Mexico City "Centro de Compositores" "excano." Mr. Semmler has composed for radio, TV, and moving pictures.

John Taylor, painter and long-time resident of Shady, was born in Baltimore. His studies and career have taken him over the entire United States with New York City as a center. He has had many one-man shows, with many awards and national recognition. He has been instructor in painting at the Universities of Louisiana, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Florida and Washington.

Reviewer Lauds Performance Of Turnau Operas, Friday

Friday evening at the Turnau Opera in Woodstock I experienced one of the most exciting performances of music drama I have ever seen. A double bill of two little known operas, Abstract Opera Number One and The Tide by Boris Blacher, was offered in original and ingenious new productions.

Boris Blacher belongs to the neo-German school of composers including Gottfried van Einem, Werner Egk, and Rolf Liebermann. Blacher himself, born in China of German parents, is a formidable musicologist, experimenter, librettist, and teacher. He succeeded in stirring up a great controversy with his Abstract Opera No. 1 (first performed in June of 1953) a sort of anti-opera scored for three soloists, a chorus and orchestra.

For me, the entire point of the Abstract is found in the fourth scene, titled Verhandlung, or Negotiations. A dialogue is presented by the baritone, singing in Russian, and the tenor, singing in English, suggesting political relations between the United States and Russia. The symbolism of the opera, as I understood it, was really a war drama; there is a fire urn symbolizing supreme power and bright flashes of light symbolizing bombs being dropped. At one point the political situation at the Berlin Wall is brought to mind.

Vocally speaking Abstract No. 1 poses many problems for the singers. There is no real language, but a language of sounds and syllables, such as O, A, A-gatta, A-lip, etc. Actually as the John Herron Museum School and the Art Students League of New York. Art discussions, panels and symposiums have been very much a part of Mr. Taylor's career.

Arranged by Rose Friedman, of the Executive Board Woodstock Artists Association, the evening holds promise of lively interest and information.

one hears more and more of these sounds a regular musical language takes form in the mind. Musically it is a very pleasant work, not atonal, or harshly dissonant. In the sixth scene, Liebe II (Love II), we find pattern associated with the jazz idiom used by the neo-German school of composers.

Plaudits go to Warren Wilson, musical director, Herbert Kaplan, associate musical director, and Judith Somogi, assistant musical director, for keeping the performance at a high artistic level.

Great credit is due director Adelaide Bishop for her staging of this very difficult work. Her individual stamp appeared in the almost choreographed movements of the singers. Alexandra Hunt was stunning as the Soprano soloist. She has a very full voice with a strong top register. Her big scene three, "Schmerz," ("Pain"), was beautifully sung.

Tenor David Dodds has improved a great deal since I last reviewed his performance of Redolito at the Turnau. He has a beautiful instrument and uses it very well.

Baritone Alan Baker sang and acted the part with fine artistic interpretation. Chorus was composed of Ruth Ray, Carolyn Hiner, John Thomas, and Franklin Summers. All must be praised for their accuracy and interpretation.

Virgil Johnson's stylized set conformed perfectly with Miss Bishop's conception of the work. Judging from the buzzing and chattering of the audience during the intermission, I was not the only one who was stimulated by the performance.

The double bill concluded with a production of Blacher's The Tide. (Incidentally, I was able to learn that Abstract No. 1 has been performed in America both in concert version in New York and staged by Sarah Caldwell's Boston Opera Group, but was unable to find details of a U. S. stage performance of The Tide.) A more conventional opera, The Tide has plot, and an intelligible, although weak libretto.

Virgil Johnson's set for this one act opera was both imaginative and functional. The costumes were the most elaborate I have ever seen on the Turnau stage. Carolyn Haefner used her lovely voice and appearance to advantage as Lillah.

Alan Baker, as the fisherman, presented a very well sung portrayal. Franklin Summers was outstanding in the character part of the Banker. His singing, some of the best he has produced in his two seasons with the company, was confident and secure.

John Thomas, as the young man, sang and acted with conviction.

The chorus, creating a special musical atmosphere, while narrating the stage action, included Alexandra Hunt, Ruth Ray, David Dodds and Richard Anderson. Finally—One big Thank You to the Turnau for presenting two really interesting works in such brilliant productions. (Review by Michael Kaye.)

Garden Club Will Meet Wednesday

The Woodstock Garden Club plans its next meeting on Wednesday, Aug. 4, at 2 p. m. in St. Gregory's Episcopal Church Hall.

Mrs. Edward Bergles, Chairman of the Judges Council of the 3rd District Federated Garden Clubs of New York, will speak on "The Personal Touch—an evaluation of a display of artistic arrangements and horticulture specimens, material grown by exhibitors."

Mrs. Albert Thon will be assisted at the tea table by Mrs. David Rattner, Mrs. Harold Kondolf and Miss Therese Kessel.

Klementis Seeks GOP Nomination

William Klementis of Zena has announced that he will be a contender for the Republican nomination for Road Superintendent in the Township of Woodstock.

Mr. Klementis, who lives in Zena, is a lifelong resident of the town, having been a farmer and, for the past 20 years, a contractor and builder.

He is the father of two and a member of the Dutch Reformed Church of Woodstock.

Firemen to Hold Regular Meeting Tuesday Evening

Woodstock Fire Co. No. 3 of the Willow-Lake Hill-Eady area will hold its regular monthly meeting Tuesday at the firehouse in Lake Hill, beginning 8 p. m.

All active members are urgently requested to attend this meeting. On the agenda will be the annual fund drive, the new tank truck, and items pertaining to the extension of service to the community.

The usual Sunday fire drill is scheduled Sunday, August 8, at 2 p. m. at the firehouse.

Active members of the company are asked to attend this drill, under the direction of Captain Alfred Ostrander.

Red Barn Antique Show Due Soon

Twenty five antique exhibitors from near and far will display at the 16th annual Woodstock Antiques Show in the century-old Red Barn on Elwyn Lane, Aug. 5, 6, 7, and 8, from 11 a. m. to 10 p. m. daily.

When Louise Bolton and Winifred Haile started the show 16 years ago it was an immediate success, and has continued to grow until it is now known as a high rating antique show throughout the states, with national publicity in magazines, newspapers, radio and TV.

Refreshments will be served at the quaint snack bar under the shed, surrounded by flowers, so that guests may browse in a leisurely fashion, among the unusual antiques.

River Improved

TOKYO (AP) — A treacherous stretch of the Yangtze River, running 410 miles between Chungking and Ichang, is now open to year-round navigation, the New China News Agency reports.

By Communist account, workers have removed more than 200 dangerous shoals and sunken rocks which made the river forbidding about half the year.

The cost was given as 12.6 million yuan about 4.84 million.

Another Officer Ready to Leave, Exams Sept. 11

Kingston's police department which lost two men in recent weeks by resignation could lose another in the near future, it was learned today.

Reported interested in joining the state police is Booth R. Pendell, 23, of 133 Hinsdale Street, one of the newer members of the force.

Resignation of Robert F. Sember, of 87 Foxhall Avenue, was announced last Friday, and that of Charles H. Diers, of 446 Delaware Avenue, was announced earlier in July. Sember joined IBM at Poughkeepsie, and Diers at Kingston.

Their resignations leaves the police department six men short. Pendell, who was named to the force in late March, had been employed as a driver for Terwilliger Brothers Inc., of Albany Avenue Extension, before his appointment as a patrolman.

The police force, which had been eight to ten men short at various times in the past two years, was only three men short after appointments last March, but new resignations are depleting it again to the point where it was at the start of this year.

A civil service examination from which to establish a new eligibility list for appointments is slated for Sept. 11, but it would be weeks after that date before appointments could be made.

Some of the five men appointed last March had served on a provisional basis before receiving full civil service status.

Brazil Has Rain

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Brazil, a traditional victim of drought, is experiencing one of its most bountiful harvests because of generous rainfall.

Although the nation normally imports corn, Brazil this year will have 1.9 million tons available for export. Increases in other crops range from 6 per cent in dried beans to 75 per cent in peanuts.

Three Are Injured, Driver Is Cited

Three persons were injured and a motorist was charged with failure to keep to the right as the result of a two-car collision at 6:05 p. m. Sunday on Route 9W about four miles north of the Orange County line, Town of Marlborough.

State Police Sergeant William Cameron of Highland said the cars were driven by Gilbert Drake, 30, West New York, N. J. and Duett Tatum, 40, Milton. Trooper Stanley Roberts cited Tatum for failure to keep to the right. The summons is returnable before Justice of the Peace Patrick Mataraza, Town of Marlboro.

Injured in the mishap were Patricia Drake, 26, of the New Jersey address, who suffered lacerations of the lips; Dawn Drake, 5, body bruises and Kelly Drake, 1½, also body bruises.

Sergeant Cameron said Drake was driving south on Route 9W and Tatum was going in the opposite direction when his car crossed into the southbound lane and the vehicles crashed.

Woman Injured, Cited After Car Collides on 9W

A woman motorist was injured and cited for driving at a speed not reasonable and prudent, after her car was involved in a collision at 7:50 a. m. today on Route 9W just north of the Kingston State Police station.

Trooper Norman Kilfoyle said Mrs. Carolyn Coughlin, 31, of Kingston Terrace, was driving on her way to work when her car was in collision with vehicle operated by James Rutledge, 43, of 177 Fourth Avenue, who was stopped to make a left turn.

The injured woman's car went out of control and hit a junked car parked in a lot, troopers said. Mrs. Coughlin was taken to Benedictine Hospital by Doctor's ambulance. She was treated for injuries of the hips and knees and contusions of the jaw.

Trooper Kilfoyle reported Trooper Fred Van Wageningen cited Mrs. Coughlin for driving at a speed not reasonable and prudent.

New State Demo Chief Asks LBJ Help in Gotham

NEW YORK (AP) — Democratic State Chairman John J. Burns says he plans to ask President Johnson and Vice President Humphrey to campaign for the party's ticket in the mayoral election.

Burns says he believes the Democrats can beat Republican John V. Lindsay, Republican and Liberal Party designee for mayor, next fall "if we are united."

Burns also said in an television interview Sunday that he considers Lindsay "exceptionally strong as a Republican" candidate, but added, "I don't think he is ahead."

Lindsay, who heads a fusion ticket with a Liberal party and a Democratic party member on his citywide ticket, has said he would not seek any campaign help from Republicans outside the city.

Burns, mayor of Binghamton, said he thinks October "would be the best time" for a presidential visit to help the Democrats retain control of the Legislature and elect a mayor and other local candidates.

Running for the Democratic mayoral nomination are City Council President Paul R. Scervano and Comptroller Abraham D. Beane, both members of Mayor Robert F. Wagner's administration; City Councilman Paul O'Dwyer and Rep. William F. Ryan, both members of the reform wing of the Democratic party.

On Saturday, Lindsay toured a number of resort hotels in the Catskill mountains seeking the support of vacationing New York City residents.

Boy, 9, Never Going in Woods After Experience

MONTICELLO, N.Y. (AP) — Herschel Babad, a frail 9-year-old boy who survived three nights and four days in dense Catskill Mountain woodlands, says:

"I never want to go into the woods again."

Herschel was recovering today at Monticello Hospital. He took his first solid food Sunday since he wandered off Wednesday from Camp B'Nai Belz at nearby Woodridge.

Doctors said the Brooklyn lad, who weighs 53 pounds, was in remarkably good condition. He had been without water.

More than 800 persons with bloodhounds and helicopters joined the search for Herschel. In the past 11 years in the same area, three other boys became lost. Two were found dead and the third was never found. Herschel said his only food was two candies he had in his pockets and some leaves he chewed.

SAUGERTIES NEWS

Summer Activity Of Saxton Vols Auxiliary Noted

Summer activities of Saxton Fire Company Auxiliary were reported at last week's meeting held at the fire station with 21 members attending. Mrs. Jean Piratzky, presided.

The family picnic was held Sunday, July 25 at Oltmann's grove with 41 children and 51 adults in attendance. Another picnic is planned for Sunday, Sept. 12.

Mrs. Hilda Valk reported that the recent card party social was successful.

It was also reported that some of the members will march in the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association parade in Highland on Saturday.

A new merchandise club will start at the next meeting. Those wishing to order may call Mrs. Mildred Fornito.

Two foods sales are scheduled, Friday, Sept. 3 starting at 4 p. m., and Saturday, Sept. 4 starting at 10 a. m. at the firehouse.

The special monthly award was won by Mrs. Olga Wolfe. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Elfrida Gaskie, Mrs. Louise Saile, and Mrs. Anna Mae Myer.

The next meeting will be Wednesday, Aug. 25 at 8 p. m.

Card Party Held

Women's Democratic Club of Saugerties were hosts to a capacity crowd at their card party, held recently at Auberge La Gasconne (formerly Le Lilas) Mount Marion. This was the first social event of the newly organized club.

Republican Club Hears Narcotics Talk by Mayone

Narcotics and measures to curb its illegal use was the topic of County Investigator Thomas Mayone at last week's meeting of Town of Saugerties Republican Club held at Odd Fellows Hall, West Saugerties in District nine.

Attorney Louis P. Francello, president, presided and introduced the speaker.

Mayone described the many types of drugs used by addicts and outlined the horrors encountered by the drug addict.

Club secretary Sally Brinnier thanked the members from each election district who assisted her in addressing some 3,900 envelopes for use in the forthcoming election. Mrs. Brinnier had been requested by the Ulster County Women's Republican Association to handle the task for the Township of Saugerties.

In attendance at the meeting was Town Committee member from District nine, William Woestendick, who also serves as town tax receiver.

Supervisor Peter Williams was also in attendance and participated in the "Town Betterment" discussions which have become a part of the Republican Club meetings. Also at the meeting were Superintendent of Highways, William Brown and other members of town government.

The next meeting was scheduled for Aug. 19 in District Five, the Centerville-High Woods area, at a meeting hall to be determined at a later date by Brown and the Dist. Five representative, Mrs. William Everts.

Plans for a September outdoor barbecue were also reported as being made by Club President Francello.

Dartball League Franchises Must Be Filled Aug. 4

All teams in Saugerties Dartball League must be ready to file intentions to play and pay its annual dues at the league meeting Wednesday 7:30 p. m. at Centerville Methodist Church Hall, Route 212.

New teams seeking a franchise must be represented and prepared to pay the annual dues if accepted by the league.

Election of officers will be held. The office of the secretary-treasurer will be vacant due to the resignation of Barry Finger, who is now serving with the U. S. Army.

Other current officers are John Mower, president and Clarence Lynk, vice president.

The new season starts early in September.

VFW Blood Bank Drawings Slated Thursday Night

Saugerties Community Blood Bank, sponsored by the Auxiliary of Saugerties Memorial Post 5034, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will conduct a blood bank drawing Thursday 7 p. m. at VFW Hall, Livingston Street.

Mrs. Richard Gardner, Barclay Lane, advised that the bank's supply has been exhausted.

Those planning to donate blood may notify Mrs. Gardner by phone. However, walk-ins are welcome to attend. Refreshments will be served. A doctor and the Blood Bank nurse will be in attendance.

Bach Fans 20 in 10 Innings as Elmer's Nips Lions, 2-1

Fisher Wins, Loses a Game; Herzog Scores

Brian Bach struck out 20 batters in 10 innings but didn't receive credit for a 2-1 decision Elmer's Inn scored over the Lions Club; Vince Fisher won and lost a game and Herzog Construction moved into first place with a win as action continued Saturday in the City Baseball League.

Bach pitched two-hit ball for 10 innings a couple of weeks ago but the Elmer's Inn Lions Club game was stopped by a curfew with the clubs dead-locked 1-1 after 10 innings.

When the action was resumed Saturday, the pitching action doubled in the last of the 11th to give relief hurler Vince Fisher the verdict over Ted Dream, who went the distance for the Lions Club.

In the 10 innings he worked, Bach allowed two singles and walked a pair. Fisher pitched hitless ball in the 11th. In the last of the inning, Dream was touched for an infield hit by Rich Nelson and then Bach slammed his second double of the tilt.

Bream walked three and fanned a dozen in suffering a tough setback.

Fisher started the regularly scheduled game against the Lions Club and was tagged for two runs in each of the first two innings. Gene Stoutenburg surrendered four runs in the final four frames as the Lions won an 8-4 decision.

Frank McGowan went the distance for the winners. He gave up five hits and seven walks while striking out 11 batters. It was the best game of the season for the youthful winners.

Herzog's opened up with three runs and added five in the fifth to easily defeat Lou's. Ronnie Thomas, the Wagner College ace, limited the losers to three safeties while his mates collected 12 off loser Bob Dunn.

Rich Lottz and Len Whitten slammed three hits each and Gerry Hawkins had a triple for Herzog's. The losers chipped in with six errors.

BATING — Boog Powell, Baltimore, clouted a three-run homer in the ninth inning that gave the second-place Orioles a 7-6 victory over the American League-leading Minnesota Twins.

PITCHING — Joe Horlen, Chicago, pitched a three-hitter as the White Sox edged Detroit 1-0 in the first game of a double-header.

Elsewhere in the American League, Chicago and Detroit split two, with the White Sox winning the opener 1-0 for Joe Horlen but the Tigers coming back for a 2-1 victory in the nightcap behind Dave Wickersham. Kansas City and Washington split, the Senators winning the first 3-2 and the A's taking the second 3-2. Los Angeles nipped Boston 5-4 in 11 innings.

Meanwhile, Cleveland moved within 5½ games of the lead by splitting a doubleheader against New York. Sam McDowell's three-hitter won the nightcap 4-1 after three Yankee homers had powered New York to a 10-6 victory in the opener.

Elsewhere in the American League, Chicago and Detroit split two, with the White Sox winning the opener 1-0 for Joe Horlen but the Tigers coming back for a 2-1 victory in the nightcap behind Dave Wickersham. Kansas City and Washington split, the Senators winning the first 3-2 and the A's taking the second 3-2. Los Angeles nipped Boston 5-4 in 11 innings.

Highland Advances In LL Play

Gary Sheeley slammed a sixth inning home run, his second of the game, to give Highland's Little League all-star team a pulsating 5-4 win over Hudson Saturday at Saugerties.

The win advances the District 16 champions to the bi-district tournament tonight in Poughkeepsie. The team will oppose the Mid-County all-star at Spratt Park, beginning at 6 o'clock. Tonight's winner will play in the sectional tournament this weekend in Scotia.

Sheeley's first home run came with one aboard in the fourth frame and it gave Highland a 4-3 lead. Hudson knotted the lead in the fifth and Sheeley won it in the sixth. He also had a single, giving him three hits for the day.

Joe Skipp was the winning hurler. He was touched for 10 hits but his mates gave him some solid support. Skipp walked one and struck out eight. Dennis Bell lost it.

BASS BUG FISHING

IN EARLY SUMMER, BEFORE THE HOTTEST WEATHER ARRIVES, A FLY-ROD BASS BUG IS ONE OF THE BEST LURES YOU CAN USE. BASS THEN PROWL IN SHALLOW WATERS FOR FOOD, ESPECIALLY AT DAWN AND DUSK.

CAST BUG NEAR WEEDS. LET IT LIE MOTIONLESS (A) UNTIL RISES AROUND IT DISAPPEARS. THEN USE THE FAINTEST TWITCH POSSIBLE. WHEN IT'S QUIET AGAIN, TWITCH BUG FORWARD 2 OR 3 INCHES (B). AGAIN, THEN PROWL IT A FEW INCHES TO (C). REST, THEN "POPPY" AGAIN, ETC.

HOLD ROD TIP HIGH

A VERY ENTICING "RETRIEVE" IS A RHYTHMIC JIGGLE OF HIGH-LEAD ROD TIP. IT CREATES A FROG-SWIMMING ACTION.

Bret Hanover Seeks 34th Straight Win

NYS HARNESS RACING

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three of the four categories among the 3-year-old Standardbreds have outstanding performers at the top, and the biggest — Bret Hanover — goes after victory number 34 Wednesday night at Buffalo Raceway.

The undefeated son of Adios is scheduled to start in the W. N. Reynolds Memorial Stake for sophomore pacing colts, only four days from his last start. He won the Spirit of 76 Pace at Liberty Bell in Philadelphia Saturday night.

Meanwhile, Ambro Flight again proved the best of the sophomore trotting fillies as she won the $35,783 Hudson Futurity Trot at Yonkers Raceway Saturday night.

The 3-year-old daughter of Star's Pride-Homestead trotted the mile in 2:06 4/5. She is undefeated this year and has now won 12 straight races.

Noble Victory, the top 3-year-old trotting colt, had captured his 16th straight last Friday night. He has lost only one race in his 23 starts.

In other feature races at New York harness tracks Saturday night:

—At Saratoga Raceway, Dunham Hanover won the $4,000 Warren County Pace in 2:04 2/5.

—At Vernon Downs, The Prude ($5,400) won the featured $4,000 Trot in 2:03 1/5.

—At Buffalo Raceway, Beaduzz ($5,800) captured the $2,500 featured pace in 2:04 1/5.

About Time: Graham

ASHEVILLE, N. C. (AP)—It was about time United States faced squarely "the plain, unvarnished truth" that communism has gained ground since World War 2, evangelist Billy Graham said Friday.

Dr. Graham told the 93rd annual convention of the North Carolina Press Association at Asheville:

"So steady, so incessant, so deadly has been the encroachment of Communist tyranny on the West that we have been in danger of being hypnotized into a state of unawareness."

American Track Stars Lose For 1st Time to Russians

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Spurred by a splendid doubles victory, the Mexican Davis Cup team launched an uphill bid today to seize the American Zone championship from the United States.

Faced with the monumental task of Rafael Osuna and Antonio Palafox, who must sweep both singles matches from Dennis Ralston and Arthur Ashe.

Osuna, Mexico's finest tennis player, square off against top-ranked Ralston and Palafox challenged Ashe, the amazing young Negro who stunned Osuna in the opener Saturday.

Osuna and Palafox brought Mexico back from the brink of elimination Sunday with an 8-6, 6-4, 7-5 triumph over Ralston and Ham Richardson.

Mexicans Are Alive

By WILL GRIMSLEY

Associated Press Sports Writer

KIEV, U.S.S.R. (AP)—A dazed U.S. track and field team licked its wounds today from its worst debacle ever in international competition — a loss to the Russians — and asked: "How did it happen?"

Were the Yanks too complacent and over-confident, as suggested by Russian Coach Gabriel Korobkov and seconded by high-ranking U.S. officials?

Did many of their stars wear themselves out in a month of campaigning on the continent prior to the seventh annual U.S.-Soviet meet Saturday and Sunday in this picturesque capital of the Ukraine?

Or was it simply a case of bad luck — mushrooming injuries that felled some of the best of the American athletes in the midst of the crucial meet?

The Russians scored a sweep, winning both the men's and women's competition for the first time since the series was started in 1958. It marked the first time American men track and field stars had ever lost a meet of this kind.

Scoring upsets in such American specialties as the pole vault and sprint relay and winning the 5,000 and 10,000-meter runs, in which the United States had Olympic champions, the Soviet team beat out the U.S. men 118-112 and won for the seventh time from the women, as expected, 65 1/2-45 1/2.

It wasn't a complete disappointment from the American standpoint.

Wyomia Tyus of Griffin, Ga., established herself as the fastest woman runner in the world by winning the 100 meters in world record-time of 11.1 seconds, coming from far behind to spearhead a victory in the 400-meter relay and then finishing second Sunday in the 200 meters behind Edith McGuire.

A 15-year-old doll of a school-girl named Marie Mulder of North Highlands, Calif., had even the Russians cheering for her in finishing a strong second in the 800 meters with the fastest time ever recorded by an American woman — 2 minutes, 7.3 seconds.

In the men's division, Ollan Gassell of Nutley, N.J., emerged as a giant by winning the 400 meters and then stealing the 1600-meter relay out from under the noses of the Russians with a come-from-behind anchor leg. Big Randy Matson of Pampa, Tex., awed the Russians with a 66-foot, 6 1/2 inch shot put; six-foot-seven Dave Will captured the discus with 192 feet, 5 inches and Jim Grelle, who won the 1,500 meter run in the first meet in 1958, did it again with a meet record of 3:29.2.

Hawaii May Annex

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Hiram L. Fong, R-Hawaii, says he will ask Congress members about annexing the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands to Hawaii.

"As the Micronesians gain greater self-government and as they moved forward in other areas, the need for a serious appraisal of their status as trust territory becomes more timely," Fong told the Senate.

He said he would seek a consensus of Congress, "assuming of course, that such a far-reaching step is favored by the people of Hawaii and the people of the trust territory."

Still Loves America

MADRID, Spain (AP)—Charles Chaplin's daughter, Geraldine, now 21, has denied reports she is planning to renounce her American citizenship.

She is in Madrid for the filming of "Dr. Zhivago," and she told newsmen Friday:

"I love America and I hope to make a picture there soon."

A wife, says Uncle Buckle, is a woman who resents it if her husband speaks while she's interrupting.

Most articles on mounting medical and hospital costs contain a smile, but an exception is provided by one in a recent Harper's which pauses among the facts and figures to tell the story of a doctor who called a plumber in the middle of the night to say that the toilet in his house had stopped functioning.

Annoyed at having his sleep disturbed, the plumber retorted, Plumber—Just drop two aspirin down the drain, and call me

Weather Outlook Thru Saturday

TLEBANY, N. Y. AP—Extended forecasts for upstate New York, prepared by the U. S. Weather Bureau, from Tuesday through Saturday:

Cool weather is indicated for most of the week with temperatures well below summer levels. Daytime highs will be mainly in the 70s and possibly upper 60s in some northern sections at times. Night time lows will range generally from the upper 40s to 50s. Next rain or shower period likely by Wednesday night or Thursday, when amounts of one-third to two-thirds of an inch may occur over much of the area.

Area Man Accused Of Leaving Scene; Hearing Friday

Accused of leaving the scene of an accident without reporting to authorities, Russell G. Day, 28, Esopus Avenue, Ulster Park, is slated for a hearing Friday at 8 p. m. before Justice of the Peace John O. Beaver, Town of Esopus.

According to a report of Deputy Sheriff Bernard Ellsworth and Burdette Wolven, Day was driving along Route 28 early Sunday when the glaring headlights of an unidentified oncoming car forced him to turn to the right. Day's car went off the shoulder and traveled 95 feet before hitting the Maiwood residence.

Deputies said a hole four by three feet was knocked in the foundation of the house by the force of the impact. The deputies also noted in their report they found skid marks caused by four wheels of the car on the pavement for a distance of 170 feet before the vehicle left the pavement.

The 1963 car driven by Day was owned by Joanne Day, authorities said.

Family Injured As Car Run Into Truck, Cementon

A Quebec family of four suffered injuries at 9:55 a. m. today when their car was in collision with a dump truck on Route 9W at the Cementon railroad underpass. They were taken to Kingston Hospital by Doctor's ambulance.

Trooper Thomas Crowley of the Kingston substation said Thomas R. Nuttall, 37, of St. Laurent, Quebec, was driving his car along the highway when it skidded on wet pavement and was in collision with a truck operated by Sam Lambert, 60, Selkirk.

Nuttall complained of chest and leg injuries. His wife, Joyce, 36, received injuries of the head, hands and chest. Their son, Dean, 9, and daughter, Linda, 5, sustained head injuries. None was reported serious.

Mt. Marion Man Is Cited After Crash

After his car was involved in a collision on Old Kings Highway, Town of Ulster, at 7:15 a. m. today, Louis Blass Jr., 18, Mt. Marion, was cited by Kingston State Police on a charge of driving with unsafe tires.

Trooper Thomas Crowley said Blass was driving south when a fire blew out causing him to lose control. The vehicle spun around and was in collision with the other car operated by Elinor Carr, 19, of Box 75, RD 5, Saugerties. No injuries were reported.

Nations Jittery Ever Since

First Week in August Marks Warning Note, Tragic Action

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — So long as man is alive on earth he can never forget two things that came, years apart, in the first week in August: A note and a flash.

Ever since he has known that if he is stupid enough there will be another flash some time, not to see by but to die by.

It was 26 years ago today — Aug. 2, 1939 — that the world's most famous scientist, Albert Einstein, wrote a note to President Franklin D. Roosevelt, saying: "It might be possible to make an atomic bomb."

Then the kindly Einstein, a pacifist, added a frightening note. He said the Nazis were already at work on the project. Roosevelt's response: "This requires action." It took six years to make the bomb.

Twenty years ago this week — Aug. 6, 1945 — a B29 superfortress flew over the Japanese city of Hiroshima at 9:15 a. m. and dropped a bomb called "The Fat Boy." The city went up in flash and smoke.

President Harry S. Truman got the word that day coming back from the Potsdam Conference on the heavy cruiser Augusta and he told a group of sailors around him: "This is the greatest thing in history."

Never Same Since
The Japanese bumbled about surrender and on Aug. 9, 1945, another bomb, this one called "The Fat Boy," was dropped on Nagasaki. The world has never been the same since.

Nearly 80,000 people were killed in Hiroshima, 35,000 in Nagasaki. Over 70,000 were injured in both cities, thousands were doomed to lingering, agonizing illness. Other thousands were missing.

The Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore Romano, said "this incredible, destructive instrument remains a temptation for posterity." And it has been ever since.

Talk About Control
The United Nations, quickly realizing what the world was up against, in January 1946 created its Atomic Energy Commission to find some way to control what had been let loose.

Six months later, on June 14, 1946, Bernard M. Baruch, U.S. representative to the commission, told it: "My fellow citizens of the world. We are here to make a choice between the quick and the dead. If we fail, then we have damned every man to be a slave of fear."

The commission failed. The United States proposed an international commission to control atomic energy with unrestricted right to inspect all nations to prevent cheating. The Russians wanted an international agreement to abandon atomic warfare, but without inspection. The race was on.

On Sept. 23, 1949, Truman announced Russia's first atomic blast. To keep ahead, the United States went farther and on Nov. 1, 1952, exploded its first hydrogen device. Russia caught up with this on Aug. 21, 1953.

Return Alamo Flag
WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department has agreed to discuss with Mexico the possibility of having a Texas flag captured during the fall of the Alamo returned to this country.

It is a sky-blue banner of the "First Company of Texan Volunteers from New Orleans" and bears the inscription "God and Liberty."

The Texas Legislature adopted a resolution calling for its return from the Mexican National Archives at Chapultepec Palace, and Tower introduced a resolution asking the State Department to look into the matter.

Reaction Violent To Directives on Reapportionment

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Faced with a drastic cut in his town's power, one angry politician urged his community and four others to secede from their county.

The same issue sent other cities and counties into court battles that are still raging. Those were among the reactions to mandates directing all cities and counties in New York to apportion their own legislative bodies on the basis of "one man, one vote."

Early developments point to a long period of legal and political struggle before local reapportionment becomes a reality from Long Island to Buffalo. An Associated Press survey indicates that the battle over reapportionment of the state Legislature will be renewed repeatedly at the local level.

Court Is Origin
The local-reapportionment issue was born of the U.S. Supreme Court decision directing apportionment of seats in the New York and other state legislatures on a population basis. That landmark decision was issued in June 1964 and reaffirmed in state courts.

In the wake of reapportionment mandates, here is how the situation stands in some communities:

Sullivan County and the City of Binghamton in Broome County have been ordered by State Supreme Court to adopt a weighted-voting system next January so that the voting strength of members of their respective law-making bodies will reflect the population of their constituencies.

Monroe County is under court orders to prepare a reapportionment plan for its board of supervisors by April 1966.

Suffolk Has Plan
In Suffolk County, where the chairman of the board of supervisors has urged his town and four others to form a new county, a study committee is drafting a redistricting plan. The committee's action stems from a federal court ruling that its board is not apportioned properly.

Similar studies are under way in the counties of Oswego, Herkimer, Franklin, Cayuga, Tompkins, Cortland and others. New York City has redrawn its council district lines to comply with the population standard, but faces possible legal challenges.

4 Are Injured In Ellenville Area Accidents

Four persons were injured in traffic accidents investigated during the weekend by Ellenville State Police.

At 4:20 p. m. Sunday on Honk Lake Road at the intersection of Route 55 near Napanoch, a bus operated by Ede Weisz, 27, Brooklyn, and a 1957 car operated by Robert Holtz, 31, Ellenville, were involved in a mishap.

Trooper C. R. Larson reported the 1957 bus was making a right turn out of Honk Lake Road to enter Route 55 when in collision with the Holtz car which was traveling west on Route 55. Feighi Laufer, 25, Brooklyn, a passenger on the bus was treated at Veterans Memorial Hospital for bruised ribs, troopers said.

Eleanor Geiselhart, 48, Napanoch, was injured at 11 p. m. Sunday when an unidentified car passed her vehicle and forced it off the right shoulder and into a dirt embankment. She was treated at the hospital in Ellenville for lacerations of the mouth and elbow, according to a report of Trooper John Hum-ton.

Two persons were injured at 6:05 p. m. Sunday when the car in which they were riding on Honk Lake Road, Napanoch, went out of control while backing and struck and knocked down a utility pole, according to a report of Trooper C. R. Larson, Ellenville.

Troopers reported Anna Wood, 45, Kerhonkson, was backing out of a parking lot at a country club when the vehicle crossed the driveway, continued along for some 60 feet, went through a wire fence and hit the pole after crossing the road.

The woman, who was cited for driving without a license, suffered multiple chest bruises. A passenger, Conrad Fox, 67, Kerhonkson, also suffered multiple bruises of the chest. Both were treated at the Ellenville hospital, troopers said.

Earns Promotion

Thomas M. Britt, a member of the Poughkeepsie Police Department for many years, has been appointed lieutenant and assigned to head the Crime Prevention Bureau. Britt, a founder and officer for 17 years of the Police Athletic League will receive a salary of $7,200, an increase of $600 annually. Britt is 45 and a native of Brooklyn. He is a veteran of the U. S. Navy, having served in the South Pacific in World War II.

Couple in 70s Still Climbing High Mountains

REDCLIFF, Colo. (AP) — H. Russell Briggs, 72, and his 77-year-old wife started climbing Colorado's highest peaks on their honeymoon 45 years ago and they're still at it.

The Madison, Wis., couple set out from Georgetown Sunday morning to climb the 14,005-foot Mount of the Holy Cross, a snow-crowned peak looming over this community about 150 miles west of Denver.

The Briggses thought they had climbed every peak higher than 14,000 feet in Colorado, so they decided to start over. Then the U.S. Geological Survey reported this spring that the Mount of the Holy Cross actually was 14 feet higher than its previously listed 13,991 feet.

The Briggses have planned a two-day ascent, hoping to be back in the old mining center of Georgetown by Tuesday morning. In the past, they spent their nights between mountain climbing jaunts in a tent, but this year, Briggs says, they've set up base camp at a motel.

"Well," he said, "we're getting old." The couple made their first climb as newlyweds in 1920, hiking up towering Pike's Peak near Colorado Springs.

Back in Colorado last week, the Briggses made successful assaults on Mount Evans (14,264 feet) and Gray's Peak (14,270 feet).

In the early days, Mrs. Briggs said, they used ropes, pitons and "all those crazy things," but gave up the fancy equipment when their reflexes slowed.

"Now we scramble," she said, "with hands, feet and elbows." Briggs, who runs a market research business, says his wife is the superior climber of the two.

"She can look over a 1,000-foot cliff with her toes hanging over the edge," he said. "Me, I like to hold on to something."

A few years ago he fell 20 feet from a crumbling rock on 14,018-foot Pyramid Peak near Aspen. A finger smashed in the accident had to be amputated. It has been their only climbing accident.

Four Are Injured In 2-Car Crash; Driver Is Cited

Four persons were injured early Sunday in a two-car collision on Route 9W at Cocksackie, according to Leeds State Police who identified the operators of the vehicles as Robert Turan, 18, of Earlton, and Richard Brooks, 24, of West Cocksackie.

Turan was cited for failure to keep right and is scheduled to appear before Justice of the Peace Hugo Scheur, Cocksackie. Turan suffered lacerations of the face. A passenger in his car, Trudy Oko, 18, Catskill, sustained a fractured left ankle. Both were taken to Greene County Memorial Hospital, Catskill.

Brooks received facial lacerations and back injuries. A passenger, JoAnne Nuite, 19, of New Baltimore, was treated at the hospital for lacerations of the nose and forehead.

Troopers reported Turan was driving north and allegedly crossed the center line and the vehicles collided.
